

HOUSING MEETING HERE IS PRAISED BY OFFICIAL OF FHA

Enthusiasm over the accomplishments of a three-day industrial meeting, which closed Wednesday at the Biltmore hotel, was expressed Thursday by H. C. Futch, industrial adviser of the federal housing administration, who presided. The meeting, carrying the general title of "Better Selling of Better Housing," was well attended by leading figures in banking, business and industry in Atlanta, as well as several delegates from national manufacturing firms. Whole-hearted cooperation with the federal housing program was pledged by all attending. "I cannot resist the urge to pay tribute, which is well deserved, to the men responsible for the administration's efforts in Georgia," said Mr. Futch. "These men include John W. Millsaps, regional director; Judge Waldo DeLoache, state director; William A. Sirmon, associate director; and, in fact, all the members of the Georgia staff. They have done, so far, a good job, and as an illustration of what they have accomplished, I quote Charles Higgins, sales manager of the National Gypsum Company, the principal speaker at Mon-

MEETING POSTPONED BY MOTOR DEALERS
Auto Dealers' Association meeting scheduled for March 18 at the Dempsey hotel, in Macon, has been indefinitely postponed, according to S. R. Truesdell, of the national control board. It was thought advisable, according to Mr. Truesdell, to postpone the meeting until further developments in Washington would give the association assurance that the code and government support would be continued. The association is preparing to fight chiseling and non-observance of the code, in case of its continuation, said Mr. Truesdell.

Confession of Fish Read at Budd Trial

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 14.—(AP)—A confession by Albert Howard Fish that he had slain 10-year-old Grace Budd and that he knew it was wrong to kill was read into the record by the prosecution today in the murder trial of the old man. The confession, one of three introduced by the state during the supreme court session, was made by Frank H. Coyne, former Westchester county district attorney, the day after Fish's arrest. "You knew it was wrong when you did it?" Coyne asked Fish, whose defense is insanity. "Yes sir," Fish answered. He then told Coyne: "I always watched the papers and would have come forward if anyone else had been convicted. I realize my best days are over." The confession was introduced after the state introduced a pastboard box of bones—allegedly Grace's—which were shown the jury as police identified them as those dug up near the cottage with Fish's assistance. The state expects to close its case tomorrow.

ANOTHER DRY MEETING TO BE HELD IN DEKALB

DeKalb county's eighth repeal protest meeting within a period of four weeks is scheduled for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Moreland Avenue Baptist church, in East Atlanta. The principal speakers will be Charles D. McKinney, chairman of the DeKalb board of education, and W. D. Thomson, Atlanta attorney. The meeting is being held at the church on the invitation of the Rev. T. T. Davis, pastor, and follows two similar meetings held last Sunday at which Representative Ralph L. Ramsey and Bishop Warren A. Candler were principal speakers. Other meetings have been held in Lithonia, Decatur, Oakhurst and Chamblee.

Site of Massacre Found in Louisiana

WINNSBORO, La., March 14.—(AP) Skulls of 26 human beings, believed to be either those of Indians or of victims of an Indian massacre, were discovered about 10 miles north of here today by Aaron Dear, 16-year-old son of Hulon Dear, while the youth was digging post holes on his father's farm near Big creek. The fact that only the skulls were found and that all of them were within a square of not more than 10 feet indicated that the heads of the victims had been cut off and dumped in together and that the bodies had been placed elsewhere. Some of the skulls were still intact, while others had been broken into pieces. The youth and members of his family spent hours uncovering the find as one skull was six feet under the ground. Others were found at a more shallow depth. Buried with the skulls were a number of Indian relics, including tomahawks and several pestles, such as might have been used in crushing grain in a rounded bowl. The spot where the skulls were located is near the southern edge of Richland parish.

37 Children Hurt

In Tennessee Crash

JACKSON, Tenn., March 14.—(AP) Two children were injured critically and 35 others suffered minor hurts when a truck loaded with livestock crashed into a school bus nine miles south of Jackson at 8:30 a. m. today.

Both vehicles plunged down a 15-foot embankment. Carroll Fricks, 10, a passenger on the truck, was critically injured and may die. Harvey Young, 25, driver of the truck, was injured slightly. Both live at Finger, Tenn. J. H. Martin, 13, and "Boob" Byrd, 7, are the two children critically injured.

Macaroni au gratin is deservedly a favorite during Lent. Easy to prepare, economical, delightful. And all the ingredients can be had right here—at attractive prices.

INVESTORS STUDY PULP PAPER PLANS

Eight Moves Reported Under Way To Build Mills in South.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—Probable development of an extensive pulp and paper industry in the southern pine belt was seen today in inquiries received here from prospective investors.

No fewer than eight moves were reported on foot to build pulp, Kraft, and white paper and newsprint mills, principally in Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Arkansas, involving possible investments aggregating upward of $30,000,000.

The indicted southward trend of this industry followed closely on the experiments of Dr. Charles H. Herty in Savannah, Ga., designed to prove newsprint and white paper can be made from the fast-growing young pine of the south.

Investors addressed their inquiries to Washington, hoping that by putting up a substantial part of necessary funds they might obtain the remainder from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under the recent liberalized loaning powers of that agency.

Perhaps of foremost interest to the south was the movement among southern publishers to establish the first newsprint mill in the near-by pine forests to supply their presses.

Representative Deen, democrat, Georgia, a leader in the recent drive on Capitol Hill which made RFC loans available for financing new paper mills under proper security, received a telegram yesterday from E. K. Gaylord, of Oklahoma City, head of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, stating the recent Birmingham meeting of publishers was "highly successful in securing additional publisher contracts for tonnage" of newsprint. Gaylord said a definite announcement on the location of the mill will be made in about two weeks.

Alabama May Get Mill.
Indications were that Alabama might get this mill, and Demopolis, on the Warrior-Tombigbee river system, which affords water transportation, was mentioned as the possible location.

Deen received two other definite statements of plans to put up paper mills.

A letter from Atlanta stated: "It is proposed that a capital structure of approximately $4,500,000 will be required and that local interests will supply amount of $2,000,000 and application will be made to the RFC for the supplementary financing."

Another from Jacksonville, Fla., said: "We are very much interested in building a large paper mill in the south and we are in a position to supply a great part of the cost capital and necessary efforts from our own resources."

The Georgia representative said a Washington financier had shown interest in building a paper mill down south. He said also he understood local citizens of Savannah, Brunswick and Waycross, Ga., had a movement under way to raise funds for a mill in that area.

Florida Progress Reported.
William L. Wilson, of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, reported he was making progress in efforts to interest a northern paper manufacturer to build a large mill in northern Florida. A government-owned colony was projected by Wilson and Representative Wilcox, democrat, Florida, in connection with this project.

Wilson said he understood plans were being drawn to finance a white paper mill at Mobile, and that an application soon would be submitted to RFC for funds to build a mill in Arkansas.

Erle Cocke, manager of the Atlanta RFC office, wrote Representative Deen that he had received indirect information that "at least two groups of people" were considering construction of paper mills in the south, and that detailed information was withheld "pending the securing of certain options on land in the territory where the plant or plants may be located." It was not indicated whether these groups were those which also had written Deen.

When the new RFC bill was enacted about a month ago, Jesse Jones, head of this agency, said he was prepared to make loans for building paper mills under proper security, and suggested in such loans local interests should raise at least half the needed capital.

THREE MEALS A DAY

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES
by Sally Saver

Of course there's no better way to eat oranges than to drink them. But there are so many other tasty ways to serve this year-round fruit and increase the cook's popularity that I am obeying the urge to tell you about a few truly "prize" orange recipes—mostly desserts.

Orange Walnut Cheese Salad.

(Serves Four.)
This salad combines translucent orange slices and segments with novel and flavorful walnut cheese bonbons: Five or six oranges, 24 halves of walnut kernels, 1 small package (3-ounce size) cream cheese. Peel oranges, removing skin and inner membrane down to juicy meat. Cut one orange in slices. Cut out segments free from membrane for remaining oranges. On lettuce-covered salad plate center a large slice of orange. Arrange 3 groups of orange segments (3 segments to a group) around this orange slice. Moisten cheese with a little orange juice, shape into balls and place on a platter. Roll each ball in strips of pineapple. Sprinkle with any desired dressing.

Orange Blossom Pie.
Serve this orange blossom pie and friends will think you are a gourmet. The right girl for orange blossoms. This dish lives up to its name in appearance as well as flavor. Note the novel use of orange juice in crust. Bake in a 9-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) 25 minutes. Cool. Arrange sweetened orange segments from 4 large oranges between layers and on top of cake, sprinkling orange segments with 1 cup coconut.

Orange Pastry.
One and one-half cups flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind. Sift dry ingredients and add orange rind. Cut in coarsely 1/2 cup shortening; bind together with 1/4 cup cold water. Roll out on lightly floured board. Cover inverted pie plate very closely with pastry. Prick bottom and sides. Bake in quick oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Fill baked shell with:

Orange Filling.
Two cups milk, heat in double boiler and add the following ingredients, which have been well mixed: 1/2 cup instant tapioca, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/8 teaspoon salt. Cook until mixture begins to thicken. Add 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, cook 15 minutes. Stir to keep smooth. Stir in 2 egg yolks, well beaten, and 1/2 cup orange juice. Cook 5 minutes longer. Cool. Then fold in 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten; pour into pie shell; sprinkle top with 1/2 cup shredded coconut. Bake in light oven or under broiler flame. Chill thoroughly.

Ham With Spiced Orange.
As a flavorful accompaniment for baked ham or other meats, try these spiced oranges: Place in covered roaster 1 or 1 1/2 ham, 2 cups water. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) until ham is done. (Allow 21 minutes a pound for a large whole ham; 25 minutes a pound for smaller or half ham under 12 pounds.) Lift off rind, score surface and dot with cloves. Rub with mixture of 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour. Brown, uncovered, in moderate oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Serve with garnish of:

Spiced Oranges.
Three or four small unpeeled oranges. Stick surface of oranges with cloves and boil until orange skin is very tender in a heavy syrup of 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water. Remove oranges from syrup and drain. Cut in half and serve as a garnish with ham.

Orange Puffs.
(Serves 4.)
Golden orange shells packed with a delicious orange ice made in your electric refrigerator and topped with fluffy meringue make an attractive dessert. For this decorative dessert, the large, clean-skinned California navel oranges now in market are particularly well adapted.

Four large oranges; cut tops from oranges, scoop out meat, squeeze juice carefully and strain. Add enough water to juice to make 2 cups. Boil together for 5 minutes; 3/4 cup sugar, 3/4 cup water. Dissolve: 1 1/2 teaspoons gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water; combine orange juice, syrup and gelatin. Add, blending well: 3 tablespoons lemon juice, pinch salt. Pour into freezing tray of electric refrigerator and freeze to mushy stage. Remove to chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater until light and fluffy. Return to tray and finish freezing all membrane from inside of oranges and soak in cold water until orange ice is frozen. Pile ice in orange shells and place in double-depth tray until ready to serve. Just before serving make a meringue of 1 egg white and 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar.

THOUSANDS FLEE FROM MISSISSIPPI

Backwaters of River Shove Through Levees in Three States.

By the Associated Press.
Rampaging tributaries of the Mississippi spilled a vast lake over the lowlands of southern Illinois last night and battered through levees in Arkansas and Missouri.

Six thousand refugees were counted by the Red Cross in a survey of the stricken counties of northern Arkansas and southern Missouri, and more thousands watched anxiously for the crest, fearing other levees would burst today.

Rescue craft plied the murky waters to remove marooned farmers from the homes they had refused to leave until too late.

Backwater of the Mississippi shoved through a levee yesterday at McBride, Mo., and the Black River boiled over the protective wall at Moxie, Ark., and engineers felt the levee at Newport, Mo., would not last through the day.

Despite the wideness of the inundated area, no reports of deaths had come to the rescue headquarters and in some sections the waters were already subsiding. Flood danger was passing in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and the Wabash at Mt. Carmel, Ill., was rising less rapidly. At Poplar Bluff, Mo., 3,000 refugees gathered, many of them billeted in the court house. Kennett, Mo., anticipated a break in the St. Francis river levee when the crest comes today. More than 5,500 may be made homeless if the Newport levee breaks. Five hundred took to high land in Pemiscot county, Mo., when the Mississippi backed up over farmlands.

Forty per cent of Saline county, Illinois, was reported under water and highways were inundated in many of the "Egypt" counties. The big muddy river poured eight inches of water over a state road at Murphysboro, Ill., and residents of east Murphysboro evacuated their homes.

Flood damage has not been estimated, but is lessened because spring planting of crops had not begun in most of the stricken territory.

The Mississippi itself was stationary at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and a crest of 47 feet was expected by Monday at Cairo, where the Ohio empties into it. Unless further spring rains add to the burden, the main river is expected to fall next week.

The flood was near a critical stage in the St. Francis and Black valleys

Senate Probe Asked On $10 Cotton Break

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—A resolution calling for a $25,000 appropriation for an investigation of the break in the cotton market was prepared today by Senator Smith for introduction in the senate.

"I want to investigate and find out who or what it was that caused that $10 a bale break on Monday," Smith said.

The resolution would authorize the agriculture committee to subpoena witnesses and call for records of cotton exchanges and information held by the agriculture department.

3 Prisoners Escape From City Stockade

Three youthful white prisoners at the city stockade dairy farm escaped Thursday afternoon and were being sought Thursday night by city and county officers.

They were Leo Anderson, 24, of 203

Ivy street, sentenced for attempted criminal assault; Cleveland Taylor, 19, of 776 Formwalt street, for drunk and disorderly conduct, and Raymond (alias J. T.) Hornsby, 23, of 1236 Central avenue, who was serving time for being drunk, cursing, and failing to abide by a previous court sentence. Their sentences were short. They walked away from the dairy farm sometime during the afternoon, it was said.

HEINZ

Do you know the flavor of these RED-RIPE BLUE-BLOODS?

Do you know how good the sun-blessed juice of luscious fresh-from-the-garden tomatoes can taste on a windy, wet March day? You and your family can enjoy this delight every day. It's at your grocers and moderately priced. Ask for Heinz Tomato Juice.

to the Heinz kitchens, sorted, washed, scalded, pressed, sieved and sealed in tins and bottles. All this is done post-haste, to capture and hold their freshness. And to the delicious juice we add no seasoning that might mar its native charm, nothing but a tiny pinch of salt.

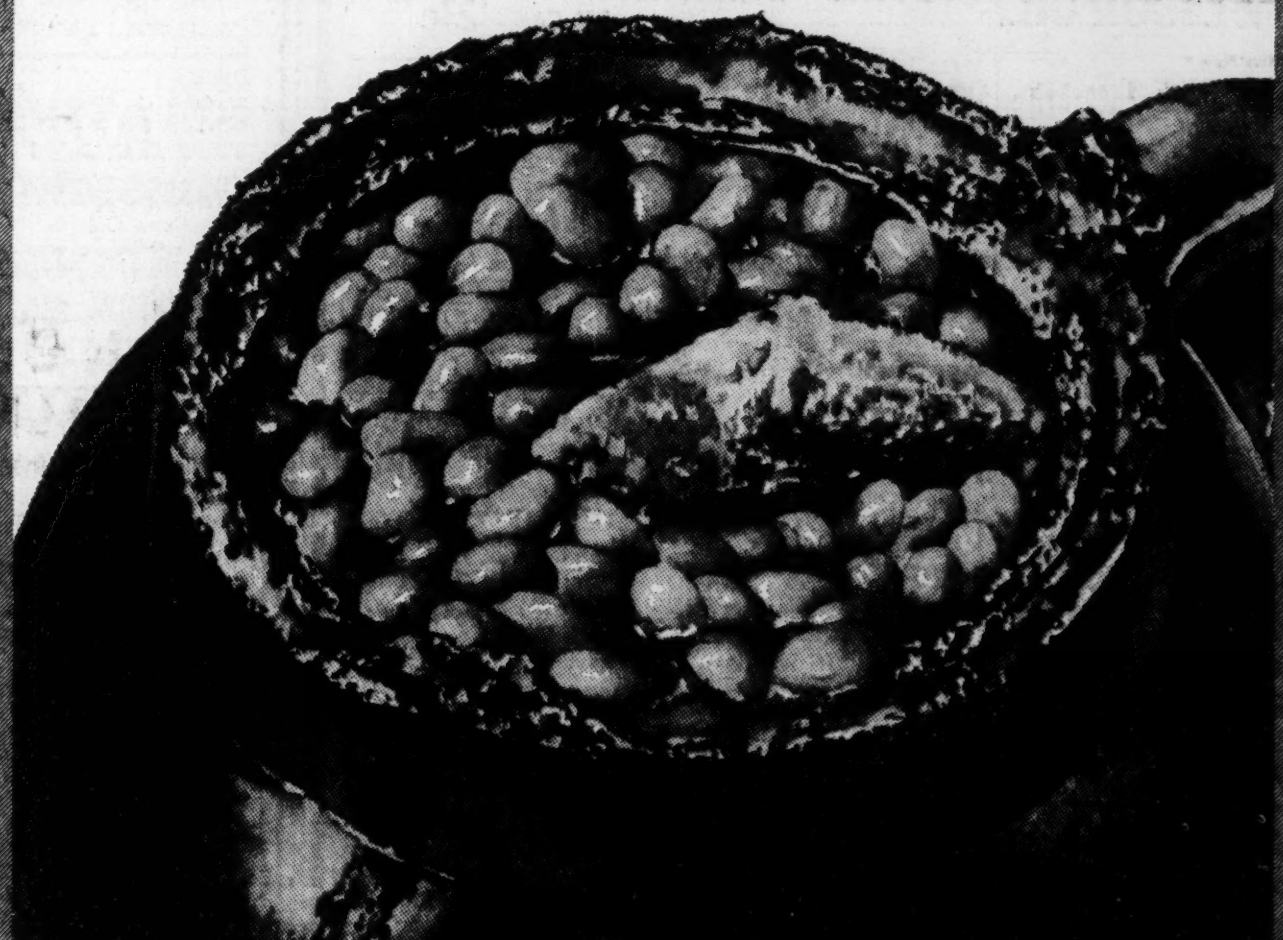

From specially developed seeds we rear the plants carefully in greenhouses, then transplant them to sunny fields. When the tomatoes are primely ripe they are picked—rushed

So here is sunny August flavor, glassfuls of "the good old summertime" to start delightfully your breakfasts, luncheons or dinners. Drink Heinz Tomato Juice!

THE BAKED BEANS OF ALL OUR YESTERDAYS

TODAY, this very evening, you and your family can draw up chairs to a real old-fashioned feast of Boston-baked beans. The well-loved warm aroma of rich molasses sauce will fill the dining room again, beckoning everyone to table. Memorable palate-pleasures, a munchyness, a sublime sweet flavor, will return to weave once more their old heart-warming spell. Faithfully, deliberately we have prepared for you Boston-baked beans exactly like Grandmother's were back when time moved more leisurely. Let us tell you.

We have bought "choice hand-picked" navy beans and these we have patiently re-inspected. We have washed them, and soaked them many hours in clear, cold water. We have baked them in hot, dry ovens; baked them thoroughly, through every fibre of every bean. We have drenched them with a sauce of sweet molasses and savored them with chunks of special bacon pork.

We have tasted them. And they are (truly they are!) the loved, remembered beans of all our yesterdays. Now you try them. Remember: ask for Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, Boston Style. Yellow label. Moderate price. Heat. Serve. Taste. Oh! Grand!

FOUR KINDS

With pork and tomato sauce

With tomato sauce, but no pork—vegetarian style

With pork and sweet molasses sauce—Boston style

Red kidney beans with sweet sauce

FOR LENT

Heinz baked Beans, vegetarian style, are the same fine beans baked the same old-time way. But they contain no meat; just rich tomato sauce. So they are a splendid dish for Lenten menus.

Fear Boat and 25 Lost in Atlantic

BOSTON, March 14.—(P)—Grave fears for the safety of the Norwegian freighter Spec were expressed tonight by her agents, who revealed they had no word from the vessel since she left Glasgow with a coal cargo 28 days ago.

Bernard S. Costello, of Harris & Costello, agents for the freighter, which carried a crew of 25, said he believed the Spec might have foundered in the heavy Atlantic gales of last month. The Spec, he said, was in approximately the same position as the freighter Blairgowrie when she sank with all hands in February.

Paintings by Hilda Belcher To Be Placed on Exhibit Here

Atlanta art lovers will be accorded the privilege of viewing the work of one of America's most distinguished women artists when pictures by Hilda Belcher are placed on exhibition Sunday at the High Museum of Art.

The display, comprising a dozen pictures from Miss Belcher's recent exhibition at the Sterner galleries in New York, will include a group of portraits from Savannah and also portraits of the children of Mrs. Harry L. Greene, of Atlanta, painted last spring. Among the Savannah portraits are the daughter and grandson of the late Hugh M. Comer and the young granddaughter of Mrs. St. Elmo Masengale, of Atlanta.

Miss Belcher will be present during her exhibition in Atlanta. She will arrive in Atlanta today and a luncheon will be given in her honor by Mrs. Greene. The afternoon of the exhibition opening a tea will be given for the artist at the museum.

Born in Pittsford, Vt., the daughter of a well-known artist, Mrs. Martha Wood Belcher, Miss Belcher has had a sensational career as a painter. She is one of the very few women in America to be admitted to full membership in the National Academy of Design, the American Water Color Society and a number of other art associations.

One of Miss Belcher's works, the "Portrait by Night," which won the Proctor prize at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and was later bought by the academy, was sensationally stolen from the Pennsylvania Academy galleries a year later and never recovered.

Miss Belcher's portraits are modern in the sense of being completely freed from the old slavery to photographic likeness. They are not colored photographs, but works of art; studies which portray the character, spirit and the individuality of the subject.

MRS. MARY BLODGETT PASSES AT AGE OF 76

Wife of Late Postmaster of Atlanta Was Widely Known in Church Work.

Mrs. Mary Johnston Blodgett, 76-year-old widely known Atlanta woman, died Thursday morning at her residence at 24 West Peachtree street, N. W., of an extended illness. She was the wife of the late Edwin F. Blodgett, who was postmaster of Atlanta before his death in 1912. He served three terms.

Mrs. Blodgett had resided in Atlanta most of her life, coming here when she was only a child, and she had been an active member of the First Baptist church for 64 years. She was prominently identified with the woman's missionary work of the church.

Funeral services are to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Peachtree chapel of Brandon-Bond-Condor, and Dr. Ellis A. Fuller and Dr. Felton Williams will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

F. D. Burge, John Law, J. B. Osborne, John Dance, Dr. J. Frank Arthur, B. D. Barrett, Love Harrell and B. C. Speers will act as pallbearers.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Ruth L. Blodgett, of Atlanta; two sons, Lewis Blodgett, of Atlanta, and John F. Blodgett, of Gainesville, Ga.; a brother, Steve R. Johnston, who formerly was superintendent of Grady hospital; and three grandchildren, John F. Blodgett Jr., and Miss Isabel Blodgett, of Gainesville, and Miss Mary Katherine Blodgett, of Hogsheadville, Ga.

Miami Police Chief To Face Graft Trial

MIAMI, Fla., March 14.—(P)—Police Chief S. D. McCreary today gained an overnight respite from criminal court trial for alleged bribe-taking as his prosecutors drafted a new indictment to replace charges found defective.

Judge Ben C. Willard ruled McCreary was a public officer—and thus could not claim immunity under the statute of limitations—on January 16, 1932, when he allegedly accepted $1,000 from a night club operator, now dead.

The jurist, however, with Special Solicitor Bart A. Riley agreeing, found the original information fatally defective upon technical grounds. A new, corrected information will be filed before court's opening tomorrow.

The grand jury claimed McCreary, as Miami's director of public safety—a post now merged with the position of chief of police—accepted the money and permitted the late Joseph Dillard to operate gambling in the Embassy Night Club.

Three Drowned SIXESTON, Mo., March 14.—(P)—Three persons, all negroes, were drowned when a small boat, in which they were seeking to row to higher ground in the swollen Little River basin, capsized near here today.

The latest of the United States department of agriculture bulletins received by this department has an impressive title. It is called "A Plan for the Management of Brown Bear in Relation to Other Resources on Admiralty Island, Alaska." Now the brown bears of Alaska are animals that I, for one, would not undertake to manage, especially single-handed. They are just too big. That Kodiak bear, for example, has the reputation of being the largest carnivorous land mammal in the world. I am willing to accept this statement and forego the privilege of measuring one in the flesh, unless he is safely dead.

Still, it is possible to manage the bear population of the island and never see one of the bears. Such wildlife management is not especially effective but is too prevalent in the nation's component states.

The point I want to make today is the reference to other resources in the title of this paper. There should never be a lop-sided plan of management developed for any area. To place an area under quail management, for example, involves a reduction in numbers of the predators known to have detrimental effects on the population of quail. Still, to exterminate these predators is worse than no control at all, since a certain number of them have a beneficial influence on the quail population.

Georgia needs a thorough survey of her resources so that we may know exactly what areas should be devoted to certain crops or the cultivation of timber or game. There are places in this state where you couldn't raise a quail if you put a million of them there. There are millions of acres that are fit for nothing but timber, but hundreds of thousands of them are planted to cotton. What a lack of foresight is implied by this! Yet it is not a point of foresight but of

Man Killed, 2 Shot By Ex-Asylum Inmate

PLEASANT HILL, La., March 14.—(AP)—A postmaster was shot and killed and a merchant and a bookkeeper were wounded here today by Frank Peacock, a former inmate of a Louisiana hospital, who ran wild with a small-caliber rifle.

J. R. Ramsey, Pleasant Hill postmaster, died in a Shreveport hospital several hours after the shooting from a head wound.

T. W. Hardee, proprietor of a department store, was reported in a critical condition at Shreveport. The third victim, A. J. Barron, Hardee's bookkeeper, escaped with a flesh wound as a bullet grazed his right ear.

All fell without opportunity to defend themselves.

SKIN BLEMISHES ARE EASILY CLEARED UP 9 CASES OUT OF 10

Authorities Agree That Muddy Complexion and Unsightly Pimples Can Be Corrected By Purifying Blood Stream.

New, Scientific Medicine, Called Indo-Vin, Mixes With Food, Cleansing Inner System Almost as Nature Would. Costs Only

Just a few days ago a noted authority here in Atlanta, after watching many middle-aged and young women pass by, remarked: "Nine out of ten of those women who have skin blemishes could clear their faces up and have a healthy, peach-like complexion if they only knew how."

Many women, otherwise attractive, have unhealthy looking skin because their systems are poisoned. Yet, in most cases, it is a simple matter to cleanse the blood stream, to overcome skin eruptions and to make yellow, muddy complexions smooth and attractive. Women are achieving these results, not with yeast tonics or curatives, but by taking the new, scientific mixture of extracts made from nature's plants, called Indo-Vin. This new formula of natural medicines is being introduced to the public daily by the Indo-Vin man in person at Jacobs' Five Points Store.

HOW IT ACTS

Indo-Vin is taken after meals. It mixes with the food in one's stomach. In this way it helps nature in her work of purifying the blood and stimulating lazy glands, thus bringing all the nourishment out of your food and building up red blood corpuscles which are so important to a healthy skin.

At the same time, Indo-Vin has a great action upon the liver. By cleansing this vital organ, fresh bile starts flowing and performs almost magic action on the stomach organs, removing old impurities from the lining of the stomach which may have accumulated the system for months. It helps restore to normal the secretions of the stomach's digestive juices.

Indo-Vin will also cleanse the intestines by gently stimulating the weak intestinal muscles and by breaking up hardened waste matter. Indo-Vin will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSSED BEFORE and tone them into better daily action. It will remove the poisons that cause

Unhealthy Complexion, especially Among Women, Are Generally Caused by Toxins Poisons That Enter the Blood Stream From Constipation.

This new medicine is not a mineral salts or pill and not a powder or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol. It is a scientific formula containing a combination of nature's ingredients not found in any other known medicine.

It contains 22 extracts from the finest medicinal plants, and not one harmful drug. It works with Nature, bringing you relief as Nature herself would. In mild cases, by driving out the toxic poisons from the system, it has cleared up muddy complexions and unsightly pimples within three days. Severe cases of long standing have often been so completely relieved that former sufferers said that after their skin clears up no sign of blemishes return within six months after treatment. In most cases relief is permanent and sure.

While Indo-Vin is being introduced in Atlanta every person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents for the treatment.

The Indo-Vin man is now at Jacobs' Five Points Store, here in Atlanta, daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining this great mixture of Nature's Medicines. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggist throughout this whole Atlanta section.—(adv.)

NEW NRA MEASURE NEAR COMPLETION

Williams Urges Continuation of Hours and Wages Regulation.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—Senate and administration experts, working secretly, nearly completed today the draft of an NRA extension bill.

Even as they worked, S. Clay Williams, retiring chairman of the NRA administrative board, urged the senate finance committee in revising and extending the recovery act to continue regulation of work hours, wages and unfair practices.

The content of the new bill was closely guarded. It was being drafted for confidential use by members of the committee as a tentative proposal on which to base discussion.

Committee experts were working on the measure with Blackwell Smith, general counsel of NRA, representing Donald Rieberg, director of the National Emergency Council. The influence of the latter's testimony was expected in senatorial quarters to produce a bill confining NRA's jurisdiction to interstate commerce.

Few Codes Favored

Rieberg, in a statement made public today explained that in his testimony before the committee yesterday he did not propose any certain codes should be "dropped." He said he suggested the possible consolidation of a large number of small codes and said that if all codes covering less than 10,000 employees per code should be consolidated into a few codes, 537 would be "eliminated."

"This did not mean that codification of these industries would be ended," he said, "but that the number of separate codes would be reduced."

Williams, a wealthy North Carolina tobacco manufacturer, expounded his views on the future of NRA in general language for two hours without the aid of notes. He found difficulty answering one question before another was shot at him from the semi-circle of senators behind the committee bench.

Laying down an unlighted cigarette, Williams used his hand to demonstrate his views. The palm, he said, represented the fundamental ground of wage and labor provisions. The fingers were the fringe, representing other features of NRA, some of which were debatable.

Voluntary Codes

Squat Senator Hastings, Delaware republican, sought to pin Williams down to a declaration for purely voluntary codes on hours and wages and "other practices that the industry would like to avoid."

The retiring NRA chairman insisted, however, that the law should carry power to force "recalcitrant" minorities to comply with standards vital to the public welfare. But, leaving for later over the committee table, he warned that regulation must not go too far.

"The public will benefit in the long run from leaving as much as possible to competition," he said, in response to an inquiry from Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, about an elaborate tax to limit profits and expand purchasing power.

"We've got to be on a competitive basis or we've got to go off completely," he added. "If the government is going further than to eliminate certain causes conceded by all, then I don't see why they should place this side of turning the whole thing over to government regulation, in which I have no faith."

Adjustment of the controversy between the city administration and the housing division of PWA over building fees for construction of Atlanta's low-cost housing projects being conducted here by the federal government was seen Thursday in a letter which Mayor Key received from Horatio B. Hackett, director of the housing division of PWA, Washington.

While Hackett was insistent that the federal government could not pay fees for construction and inspection work as required by municipal ordinances, he solicited an early settlement of the payment which federal authorities intend to make for city services.

The mayor plans to dictate a reply today, and invited D. A. Calhoun, Techwood and University projects manager, to criticize it before it is dispatched.

Key has insisted that the fees, estimated at $30,000 for Techwood alone, be paid or the city will treat the projects as out-of-town developments, and will insist that a double water rate be paid, that the developments provide their own police, fire, sewer, school and sanitary service.

It was indicated Thursday, however, that Key may relent if an amicable agreement can be made with federal officials regarding the services which Atlanta is to furnish residents of the completed projects.

Hackett expressed the belief that negotiations for payment by the government to the city will be consummated without difficulty.

Negro Bandits Shoot Two Miami Golfers

MIAMI, Fla., March 14.—(UP)—Negro bandits shot down two golfers on the Miami Country Club course today.

Carl Lindholm, 54, winter visitor from Pittsfield, Mass., fell on the fourth tee, a bullet wound through the chest and wrist.

Less seriously injured was E. C. Rupley, 51, of Miami, who was released from Jackson Memorial hospital after physicians treated a bullet wound in his leg.

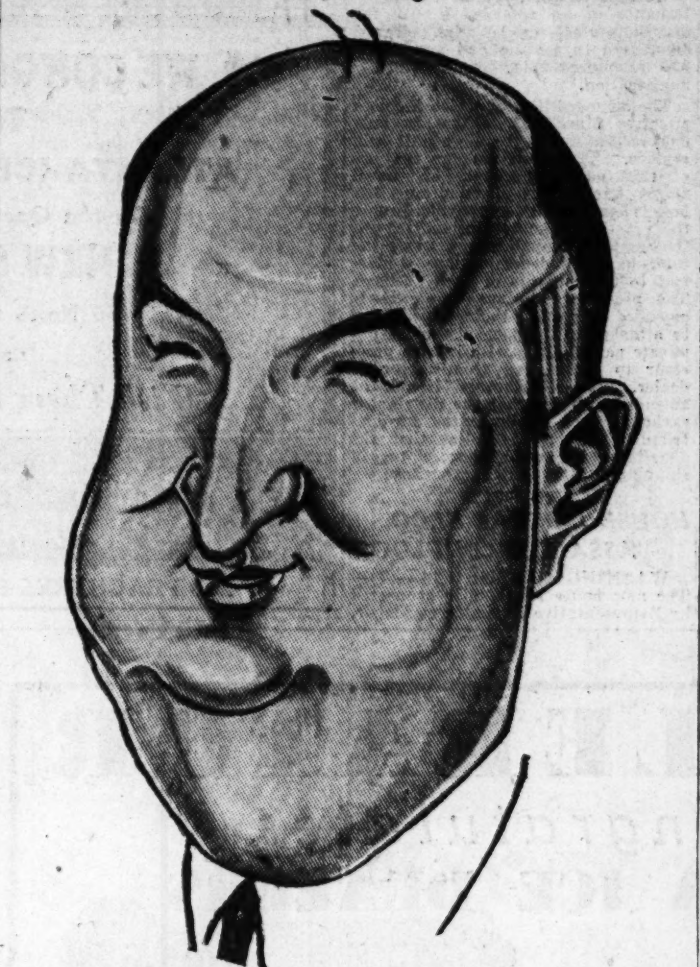

Surgeons reported Lindholm's condition as "serious."

Three negroes stepped out of the tropical shrubbery surrounding the tee as Lindholm and Rupley prepared to drive down the fairway.

"Drop those clubs or we'll kill you," one of the negroes shouted.

Before the golfers could comply with their demands, one or more of the bandits opened fire and all fled.

Jim Farley's 'Comedy Relief' His Baldness, Says Gonzalez

JAMES FARLEY—"Take a look at that face. . . 'Tis said he does things—on occasion—that make the democratic administration wince. . . The hairs are down-right artistic charity!" . . . writes Gonzalez.

By MORO GONZALEZ, Noted Mexican Caricaturist.

Abundant flesh supports his chin. . . A nose of generous dimensions has the right of way. Those are two things about James Farley. . . His head-on facade was caught at Madison Square Garden.

Farley is a successful hand-shaker. It's a cinch—who can't get the "glad eye" if the hands are laden with patronage. . . This Jim is massive—a man of ponderous gait. . . Every feature, as it went on paper showed power and implied "this is a high-gear public relations man."

Imagination and showmanship probably conceived the pre-election campaign of "selling" Roosevelt to the American people.

Take a look at that face. It has been said he does things on occasion—that make the democratic administration wince. Look at it again. One hears he makes no pretense of being other than an old-fashioned political sinner.

His principal patronage dispenser for an administration—this one or another—you've got to expect that. . .

Towering Auto Death Toll in U. S. Stresses Reality of Insurance Need

Daily papers throughout the country for the last few months have been carrying news items that should make everyone stop and think.

Auto deaths have for the last several years—each year—exceeded the number of American soldiers that were killed in the great World War.

In these stories, and especially one carried by the Associated Press from Washington, it was stated that the number of American soldiers that were killed in the great World War.

This does not take into account the added statement that nearly a million people in the United States are injured in travel accidents each year. No matter where you live, what vocation you follow, or how careful you are, the mighty wave of traffic accidents that is always on the upgrade is a serious menace to you as the head of the family, and it imperils the future security of your family if your family is dependent on you.

Insure yourself against this great common danger. Insure now!

The insurance offered you through The Atlanta Constitution is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill., which company has already paid Atlanta Constitution subscribers over $200,000. The insurance is offered to subscribers of the daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of the subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 60 on the one subscription going into the home at a small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance to subscribers who live in Atlanta and Atlanta suburbs where we have carrier delivery. Out-of-town subscribers can have this insurance by paying $1 per policy per year in advance.

This insurance offered through The Atlanta Constitution provides for the payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from accidents set forth in the policy, which is at the rate of $43.33 per month.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship of same to the insured.

Do your duty! Protect yourself and family today. Tomorrow may be too late!

U. S. WILL REDEEM 1ST LIBERTY LOAN

Issue Totalling $1,392,226,250 Will Be Refunded June 15.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—The treasury today called for payment on June 15 of its entire issue of outstanding first Liberty Loan bonds, aggregating approximately $1,953,000,000.

This issue, which is of 1932-47 maturity, consists of three series: A total of $1,392,226,250 bearing interest at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent; $5,002,450 of converted 4 per cent bonds and $335,981,250 of converted 4 1/4 per cent bonds.

The administration's determination to refund more of the outstanding gold clause bonds was not a surprise to financial quarters. While a saving in interest charges was considered the chief objective, the treasury has been expected to retire all gold clause bonds as rapidly as possible in view of the supreme court's decision that government abrogation of gold payments on these securities was invalid.

It was not learned immediately what securities would be offered in exchange for the called first Liberties, but recently the treasury refunded a portion of its fourth Liberty 4 1/4's with an issue of 20-25 year 2 7/8 per cent bonds, the lowest interest coupon for long-time paper within the memory of the present treasury personnel. This recent exchange offering was

ATLANTA ICE DEALERS OPEN DISPLAY ROOM

Air-Conditioned Refrigerators
Featured at Downtown Retail Store.

A beautiful new downtown refrigerator display room and retail store was opened today by the Atlanta Ice

Dealers at 56 Broad street, ground floor of the Healey building. Several carloads of the new style air-conditioned ice refrigerators have been received by Atlanta Ice interests and many beautiful models in different sizes to fit every family's need and pocketbook, are on display. "Genuine beauty expressed in the modern streamlined style is the keynote of these 1935 models," said E. B. Digby, manager of the retail store. "Hardware is a modern design and harmonizes perfectly with the lines of the cabinet. Every woman will be proud to have one of these modern air-conditioned ice refrigerators in her kitchen and will fully appreciate the many new conveniences that have been included in them. "The air in the food chamber is constantly washed and purified. It is constantly circulating through the food chamber and carries off food odors and gases, preventing the intermingling of food odors. Because the air is healthfully humidified, it prevents the drying out of food and abolishes the necessity for covered containers which greatly increase bacteria growth. The public is invited to inspect these new 1935 air-conditioned refrigerators. They are low priced and some models need only be iced every four or five days. The Atlanta Ice Dealers also maintain a refrigerator display room and store at 819 Gordon street for the convenience of their customers living in that neighborhood.

U. S. SOLICITOR BIGGS QUITS AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—Solicitor-General J. Crawford Biggs, of North Carolina, resigned today in a letter to President Roosevelt made public at the White House. The reason given publicly was that he had made an understanding with Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings last year that he would return to private practice this spring. Stanley Reed, general counsel of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, generally regarded as one of the most able lawyers in the New Deal, was reported slated to take Biggs' place.

Amended U. S. License Given Naval Stores

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—Issuance of an amended license for distributors of crude gum, cleaned gum, gum turpentine and gum rosin was announced today by the farm administration. The amended license, which becomes effective March 17, differs in only one respect from the license it will replace. The provision for the use of tags on all packages of naval stores handled by distributors has been changed. Under the old license the processors' control committee for the industry issued tags representing total quantity denominations equivalent to the contents of each package. The processors' license was recently amended to provide that one such tag be attached to the package and a duplicate passed along with it from processor to factor and from factor to dealer. The distributors' license as amended provides that the distributor exchange each duplicate tag for distributors' tag and requires that the distributor use a distributor's tag in shipping or marketing any package.

HEADQUARTERS for Modern Air-Conditioned ICE REFRIGERATION OPENS TODAY 56 BROAD ST.

You are cordially invited to inspect our new line of air-conditioned refrigerators now on display at our retail store at 56 Broad Street.

You expect any kind of refrigerator to keep food cold, but these refrigerators do so much more. They are air-conditioned. The air is kept healthfully humidified, preventing drying out of foods and abolishing the use of covered containers which increase the growth of bacteria.

The air is washed and constantly changed. This clean, moist air flows through the food compartment where it absorbs and carries off all odors several times a minute. This is the modern form of refrigeration—far superior to any other type, yet by far the most economical!

We have models on display which will give you all the ice cubes you can use in five minutes—clean, taste-free ice cubes.

Before you buy any refrigerator at any price, be sure to inspect these modern, beautifully styled 1935 air-conditioned refrigerators.

Prices start at $37.00. Liberal allowance for your old refrigerator.

and J. C. Ingram, secretary and treasurer.

In addition to its office here the American Bond & Share Corporation is understood to maintain offices in Washington, D. C.; Wilmington, Del.; New Orleans and New York city. Investigations were launched simultaneously in Washington, Wilmington and Atlanta by the exchange and securities commission on Monday last.

In both petitions it is charged the corporations operate a "bucket shop" in violation of the state law, that funds of investors have been so commingled that it is impossible to separate them, that the president, Bradley, who also acts as "trader" for the corporation, has a record that does not warrant any belief that he is capable of earning the large profits claimed, that the corporation has consistently refused to reveal its methods of operation, that funds have been so frequently transferred between the three companies named and between individuals that it is impossible now to trace them, and that the New York Stock Exchange, after an investigation in 1934, withdrew ticker service from the Bond & Share Corporation.

Recovery Sought.

Potter, the petitioner in federal court, stated Thursday night that he had tried repeatedly, during the past few days, to recover his money held by the American Bond and Share Corporation, but that he had not been permitted to see President Bradley, or any other responsible officer of the organization.

The hearing Thursday afternoon before Judge Underwood followed refusal of the three corporations, their officers and certain employees to respond to subpoenas issued by the securities and exchange commission of the United States, ordering them to produce their books and records for an investigation to be conducted by John S. Hurley, attorney and examiner for the commission.

This investigation was to have been opened last Monday in room 414 of the new postoffice building here.

Robert Lee, counsel for the corporation, in attacking these subpoenas Thursday, claimed the "service certificate"

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid, the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel and the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Jacobs drug stores and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."—(adv.)

Robert Martin Inaugurated As Advertising Club Head

In an interesting talk, Robert E. Martin, advertising manager of Mues, who was inaugurated Thursday as president of the Atlanta Advertising Club, told of plans intended to carry forward the excellent work of his predecessor, Oscar Strauss Jr.

Among other things the new president urged the need for a larger attendance at the weekly meetings of the club. One method he proposed was that members be given numbered membership cards. Then, each Thursday at the regular luncheon one member will be drawn from those placed in a receptacle. The holder of the membership, the number of which corresponds with the number drawn, will receive a prize.

Mr. Martin urged that members be seated at luncheon promptly at 12:30 p. m., in order that all business can be transacted in time to adjourn equally punctually at 1:30. He asked, also, that members feel free to make any suggestion which might tend to increase the value of the club as a factor in the civic life as well as in the advertising profession. He concluded with praise of the administration of Mr. Strauss Jr.

Rufus M. Darby, vice president and chairman of the membership committee, spoke at some length on the program for increased membership.

Discussion followed among the members, and several matters were set for final decision at the next Tuesday, which will, as usual, be held at Rich's tea room.

therefore a "bucket shop" and contrary to law.

"Ponzi" Scheme Said Involved.

It is further charged that the business involved operation of a "Ponzi" scheme, whereby the large dividend payments were made in order to induce a sense of security on the part of investors, gain their confidence and thereby procure additional investments from themselves and others.

Judge Underwood at the hearing Thursday expressed keen interest in the terms of the "service contract" agreement and consistently insisted that Lee, counsel for the respondents, keep strictly to the question of enforcement of the federal securities commission and the constitutionality of the federal securities act.

Kline, attorney for the commission, will respond today on behalf of the government at the conclusion of Lee's presentation of the case for his clients.

Lee, in the course of his argument, charged that the action of the exchange and securities commission was the result of a conspiracy on the part of attorneys to defame the American Bond & Share Corporation through adverse publicity and said that at the end of the present hearing criminal action would be brought along this line.

In both petitions for receivership specific allegations are set forth.

"Service Agreement."

It is contended that under the "service agreement" contract made with customers of the firm, it is agreed that the corporation shall act as agent for the customer and deal for him in securities on recognized exchanges, deducting eight per cent of all profits from such deals as its compensation.

It sets forth that the company, in 1933, paid to its clients monthly dividends that amounted to an annual rate of 113.90 per cent and that during the first 11 months of 1934 it paid dividends to investors amounting to 37.10 per cent. It is charged that the rate of dividend paid investors was uniform, month by month.

It is further contended that such earnings are impossible on the stock exchange, with no losses whatever shown and that the corporation is using money invested by some clients to pay dividends to others.

The alleged history of B. R. Bradley, president of the corporation, is set forth in detail in refutation of claims made by salesmen and representatives of the firm that Bradley had successfully operated similar business organizations in the past and that he is in exceptionally favorable position to secure advance market information by reason of his connections with the New York Stock Exchange.

Bradley's Career.

Bradley's alleged career is then given in detail, the contention being that he has been responsible for numerous promotion plans which did not work out profitably, that he has been engaged in the theater business, in part ownership of a racing stable and of a hotel in Birmingham and as a salesman for a New York stock broker.

It is stated that he obtained control of the American Bond & Share Corporation in October, 1932, by investment of $10,000, of which $8,000 was used to pay accumulated debts.

Reference is made in the petitions to a hearing held in December last in federal court in Montgomery, Ala., at which time the court, with Judge Charles B. Kennamer presiding, issued an order requiring the corporation to produce certain records for examination by the Alabama securities commission. At that hearing, it is set forth, Lee, as counsel for the corporation, abandoned the case, paying all court costs and agreeing that the company would not operate in Alabama without issuance of license by the state securities commission. The case was brought by the corporation as a mandamus proceeding to compel the securities commission not to interfere with the sale of its "service agreements" in Alabama.

"Gigantic Fraud" Charged.

The petition states in Paragraph Eighteen: "Your petitioner alleges, upon information and belief, that the real reason why the defendants herein have failed to produce any substantial part of their books and records to any governmental body or court having jurisdiction thereof, is because the production of said books and records will demonstrate the fact that said defendants have been, and still are, perpetrating a gigantic fraud upon the investing public of this and other states."

The petition then charges that the "service agreement" contract was not a bona fide intention that the securities were to be actually purchased, but that the account was to be settled according to the published market quotations of the New York Stock Exchange or other approved exchanges, and that the business conducted was

Five Persons Injured As Automobiles Crash

W. E. Ryan, of 456 Simpson street, was admitted to Grady hospital Thursday night with injuries received when the automobile in which he was riding with E. L. Bryant, of an Eleventh street address, collided on Tenth street, near Fowler, with an automobile driven by M. E. Herndon, of 3 White street, N. W.

Miss Blanch White, 19, of 502 Lynch avenue, a passenger in the Herndon automobile, was treated at Grady hospital for lacerations and bruises about the face, and Mrs. Herndon and the two Herndon children were bruised. Cases of drunk and operating an automobile were made against Ryan and a technical charge of reckless driving was made against Herndon.

Throughout his long association with the play, Harrison was regarded with reverence by the more than 90 other negroes in the cast. Of these as well as on, they referred to him as "de Lawd."

Before he had settled down as head of a drama school in Greensboro, N. C., Harrison had traveled the Chautauqua circuits as a declaimer of Shakespeare, many of whose plays he knew by heart.

Federal arrangements awaited the arrival from Chicago of his son, Paul Lawrence Dunbar, an orchestra leader.

mission of the United States in seeking investigation of the firm's operations, were in fact a conspiracy to wreck the institution.

Lee's statement follows: "For almost a year's time the American Bond & Share Corporation has been endeavoring to co-operate with the federal authorities in charge of the federal securities act, but throughout that period of time they have never been able to obtain any ruling that the American Bond & Share Corporation was subject to the securities act of 1933, but on the contrary, the officials of the federal trade commission and the securities exchange commission have steadfastly refused to issue such a ruling until last Monday stated both in writing and orally that the American Bond & Share Corporation was not subject to the terms of the securities act of 1933, in view of the nature of the company's business and the form of contract used by it."

The company has repeatedly sent its counsel to Washington in vain endeavors to co-operate with the commission.

Last Saturday the commission issued simultaneous orders for hearings to be had at exactly the same hour in three separate places, Washington, Wilmington, Del., and Atlanta.

"It has been demonstrated by the course of conduct adopted by the securities and exchange commission that it has been their policy to attack and attempt to destroy every trading management type of financial institution and in their zealous efforts to bring about a successful attack on the American Bond & Share Corporation, they attempted to obtain and hold hearings at the several offices of the company, thereby preventing the officers and its counsel from being present at more than one hearing."

"The counsel for the company has taken the positions that the proceeding sought to be had are void, illegal, and unconstitutional and has resisted the attempted action. The matter is now pending before Judge E. Marvin Underwood in the federal court at Atlanta."

"Counsel for the American Bond & Share Corporation has not had an opportunity to examine the petitions filed for receivership, but he is informed that Ben J. Potter is the complainant in one action and that Gail and B. Kilborne are the complainants in the other. As evidence of the fact that the suits are brought without good intention, and with an ulterior motive, Ben J. Potter requested B. R. Bradley, the president of the American Bond & Share Corporation, to permit him to withdraw the sum of $500 without notice of withdrawal, contrary to the provisions of the contract between Mr. Potter and the American Bond & Share Corporation, only last Saturday, and utterly disregarding the usual withdrawal notice of 30 days, due to Mr. Potter's urgent need, the American Bond & Share Corporation promptly paid to him the sum of $500 requested."

"We expect to be able to show in the present proceeding before Judge Underwood in which we are testing the legality of the securities and exchange commission's action, connection between the securities and exchange commission and the receivership suits. Counsel for the American Bond & Share Corporation in his opening statement to the court today said that the commission had combined, confederated and conspired with other persons to wreck the American Bond & Share Corporation and we expect to prove it."

Robot-Controlled U. S. Plane Made Ready for Hawaii Hop

OAKLAND, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—Renewed activity tonight in the hangar of the government's robot-controlled, radio compass plane gave indications the ship might take off within a few hours on another ocean flight, possibly in the direction of Hawaii.

Despite announcements that no immediate flight plans had been made, mechanics were busy working on the sleek, twin-motored ship which was rolled out of the hangar for a few minutes around 7:10 p. m. Refueling of the craft was not immediately started.

Captain Albert F. Hegenberger, navigator, intimated the crew was awaiting further orders from Washington where Eugene Vidal, commerce department aeronautics official, said further tests were necessary before trying the 2,400-mile flight to Honolulu.

During the day repairs were made on a generator and fuel pumps which were reported to have caused trouble in test flights.

Representatives of the Holland Tire Company, the Quick Tire Company, Spalding Foundry Company, Withers Foundry Company, Beck & Greig Hardware Company filed the complaints, which will be considered at the joint meeting with the purchasing committee.

Virtually all the purchases in question were ordered by the purchasing committee and were not made by Walker.

Several supply house representatives appeared before the committee Thursday night to defend Walker and to deny that any favoritism had been meted out in city contract awards.

It was not expected that a report can be ready for council action Monday.

Purchase of automobile tires, castings for the city crematory, screen wiring at Battle Hill sanitarium and shovels were the only commodity purchases attacked in the closed door meeting of the committee, it was learned following the session.

Commons Votes Hike In Naval Estimates

LONDON, March 15.—(Friday)—The British house of commons early today voted its approval, 158 to 48 of naval estimates for 1935 amounting to 80,000,000 pounds (about $285,000,000), an increase of 3,500,000 pounds over last year.

The vote came after Sir Bolton-Clayton, first lord of the admiralty, assured the legislators that Great Britain still is willing to enter into negotiations for abolition of submarine warfare and reduction in size of warships and cruisers. Japan's denunciation of the 1922 Washington naval treaty, he said, should not be regarded as "too tragical."

GA. FAMILIES ON RELIEF TO GET DRY SKIM MILK

Families on the rolls of the Georgia emergency relief administration are being supplied with dry skim milk furnished by the surplus commodity division of the FEPC. It was announced Thursday by Miss Gay B. Shepperdson, relief administrator.

A carload of the dried milk has been delivered to the GEPA base in Macon where it is being packed in pound packages by relief workers for distribution throughout the state.

One pound of dry skim milk will make a gallon and a half of liquid skim milk. It can be retained in the home without refrigeration, will not sour and cannot freeze. Furthermore, it contains all the vitamins A and D, which are removed with the fat, according to Miss Erna E. Proctor.

JOHN QUINCY TAYLOR, FULFILL EMPLOYE, DIES

John Quincy Taylor, county employee for many years, died Thursday morning at a hospital at the age of 63. He resided at 444 Third street, northwest.

Mr. Taylor was connected with the office of Judge O. H. Puckett. His funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Pondera Avenue Baptist church, and the Rev. G. W. Cox will officiate. Burial will be in Sandy Springs cemetery.

Judge E. D. Thomas, R. C. McCall

FOUR JAILED HERE ADMIT BURGLARIES

Buford and Cuthbert Robberies Cleared Up, Police Announce.

Four men arrested Wednesday and Thursday by the reg squad of the Atlanta detective department broke down Thursday night, according to the police, and confessed to burglaries in Buford and Cuthbert within the past few days.

D. B. Beshers, 40, of 5 Krog street, N. E., and J. R. Chappell, 24, address unknown, who were arrested by Detectives E. S. Acree, Hiram Davis, Fred Battle and E. E. McCrary Wednesday morning, Thursday night told police that they entered the Jacob Allen dry goods store at Buford, Ga., Saturday and after making an unsuccessful effort to blow the safe, took approximately 20 suits of clothes and other merchandise.

Detective McCrary said that the suit and shoes which Chappell was wearing at the time of his arrest have been identified as part of the loot from the Allen store.

A negro woman, Laura Little, arrested Thursday afternoon on a charge of possession of stolen goods, had two of the suits in her home at 674 DeKalb avenue when arrested, the detectives said.

J. R. Martin, 26, of 148 Forrest avenue, and Homer Kelly, 28, of 333 Baiting place, were arrested Thursday morning, verbally confessed to the detectives Thursday night that they entered the hardware store and undertaking parlors of J. B. Cuthbert, Ga., Tuesday night and took $120 in cash, watches, knives, pistols and other merchandise.

Jr., J. R. Wood, Gus A. Smith, J. K. Burrus and Judge O. H. Puckett will act as pallbearers. Mr. Taylor is survived by his wife.

ARMS TALK HEARD IN MANY CAPITALS

British Statesman Plans To Visit Three Nations in Cause of Peace.

By the Associated Press.
A letter of talk about armaments fanned yesterday even as British statesmen completed plans to visit three European capitals in the cause of peace.

Simultaneously, Maxim Litvinoff, soviet commissar for foreign affairs, suggested withdrawal of arms forces from the Manchukuo-soviet border in view of decreasing tension in the far east.

TOKYO—Admiral Mineo Osumi, naval minister, announced Japan would press her demand for naval parity at forthcoming negotiations, while Japanese vernacular newspapers asserted United States plans for trans-Pacific air service menaces Nippon.

LONDON—Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, said
Japan's denunciation of the 1922
Washington naval pact disappointed Britain. Introducing 1935 naval estimates, he said Britain "cannot further reduce the number of her ships" but is "anxious for an international agreement for the reduction of their size."

It was announced Joseph Stalin himself would confer with Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, when the latter goes to Moscow after visiting Berlin in company with Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon.
Eden also will visit Warsaw.

BERLIN—The Diplomatische Po-litische Korrespondenz, government mouthpiece, again warned Simon that forthcoming security conferences must be in the spirit of "unlimited confidence, placing general European interests above special wishes."

PARIS—Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin, spurred by the "new German air menace," made ready to ask parliament tomorrow to increase the period of French army service. France was reported considering conciliatory of Berlin's move in making the reich air force "official" as an open violation of the Versailles treaty.

MOSCOW—An authoritative article in Izvestia, the government article, said the soviet would increase "defensive measures" if Britain makes any concessions to what it termed Germany's plans for aggression.

Recorder Raises Ante For Women Inebriates

Recorder John L. Cone announced Thursday that hereafter he would observe the double standard when dealing with women charged with drunkenness. The fine in such cases, he said, would not be the customary $7 which is assessed men who are found guilty of the offense, but would be $12.

The reason for the display of partiality, the recorder explained, was because it is natural to expect a woman to display more self-respect and that a drunken woman is more detrimental to her sex than a drunken man.

The announcement came after Recorder Cone had found Juanita Jones, of a downtown hotel, guilty of being drunk and had permitted her to pay "the last $7 fine."

Children's Coughs Need Creomulsion

Always get the best, fastest and

Gets Goodyear Post

EDLOE B. SNEAD.

EDLOE B. SNEAD GIVEN GOODYEAR POST HERE

Expert Named Special Representative on Truck, Bus Tires.

Edloe B. Snead, of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, has just been transferred from Louisville to Atlanta to serve as a special representative on truck and bus tires in the Atlanta branch territory, according to E. M. McPherson, Atlanta
Goodyear branch manager.

Mr. Snead has been with the Goodyear organization more than 14 years.
During the early part of his connection he was located in Florida, with most of his activities devoted to wholesale work. About four years ago he was transferred to Louisville, where he first was connected with the wholesale department, leading up to his appointment as manager of Goodyear service in that city.

From his long training in many different kinds of tire work, Mr. Snead brings to fleet owners, bus operators, commercial accounts, national accounts and other large tire users a wealth of actual experience and technical data on economical tire operation. He is fully equipped to render these large operators a helpful general service and in many instances to point out methods of operation which will considerably lower tire costs.

WELCH URGES U. S. TO AID CLAYTON ROAD

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, March 14.—With the active aid of both Georgia senators, Representative B. Frank Welch, of Gainesville, reported progress today on his negotiations with the forestry service looking to the obtaining of federal aid for completion of the paving on three state's road from Mount Rest to Clayton.

As a member of the forest conservation commission, Senator Walter F.
George is using his influence to have
F. A. Silcox, chief of the forest service, look with favor upon this highway development which will rebound to the benefit of three commonwealths Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The road for which federal aid is sought is an eight-mile stretch in the triangular corner of Rabun county, Georgia, connecting the well paved highway system of both North Carolina and South Carolina, beginning at the North Carolina line.

Representative Welch also is seeking the co-operation of senators and representatives from the affected territory of North Carolina and South Carolina.

He explained that the Georgia highway commission has made an agreement with the forest service to pay half the expense of paving. The grading is now nearly completed, but due to certain misunderstandings the federal government has been unwilling to go along with the state.

During the 73d congress, former Representative John Wood, of Canton, obtained the consent of the government to divide the expense of grading this link of road, and with the grading now practically completed, Representative Welch is endeavoring to convince the government it is no less important that Uncle Sam divide the expense of paving the link.

ANTON RINTELEN GIVEN LIFE TERM

Former Power in Austria
Is Convicted of High Treason.

VIENNA, March 14.—(AP)—Anton Rintelen, once powerful in Austria's affairs of state, was convicted of high treason by court martial today and was sentenced to life imprisonment for the part he played in the nazi putsch of last July 25.

Although physically frail and worn,
the former minister to Rome chatted cheerfully with his counsel as a crowded courtroom awaited the verdict.

A wan smile came over the face of Rintelen when the black-robed justice, flanked by high army officers, pronounced the sentence.

The military court found no difficulty in arriving at the conclusion that he had plotted.

Many Nazis were convinced it was Rintelen who had betrayed them. He did not appear at the chancellery when Nazis, over a seized government radio, announced that he had succeeded Dollfuss as chancellor.

One prominent Nazi observed, "he played both ends against the middle.
He will have to take what he gets."
The Nazi putschists were left at the chancellery they had seized without a leader as a result of Rintelen's failure to appear as allegedly arranged. At that time he was minister to Rome but was at a Vienna hotel.

The court's verdict said Rintelen clearly approved the putsch, plot
"which became known to him, and of "placing himself at the disposal of the ring leader," as a prospective new chancellor. He thus "conspired with others in what proved to be a serious internal and foreign peril to the state and tended to provoke uprising and civil war."

The trial of "King Anton of Styria," as Rintelen was called, lasted 12 days and failed to contribute vitally to the store of general knowledge concerning the putsch.

The prosecutor called attention to Rintelen's failure to recall many incidents as evidence of his guilt. Great weight was laid on the assertion that Dollfuss had mistrusted Rintelen although he had used him as a minister of education and later minister to Rome.

REYNOLDS ATTORNEYS MEET ON SETTLEMENT

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 14.—(AP)—A sudden recess was taken today in the hearing on distribution of Smith Reynolds tobacco millions and attorneys in the litigation spent the day in conference, but there was no official hint as to whether this preagreed an agreement which would halt the proceedings.

Judge Clayton Moore, presiding in Forsyth superior court, said it did not mean that he had reached a decision.

Announcing a recess until 2:30
p. m. immediately after convening court this morning, he said it had been asked to permit attorneys to draft the form of a possible decree.
Later he said two or more possible decrees might be presented to him.

When court was reconvened for the afternoon session, he announced a further recess until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

The attorneys in the case were closed in a hotel pool room throughout the day and met again tonight.

An attorneys for the Reynolds family said that a decree embodying the distribution of the $30,000,000 trust estate proposed by the Reynolds family would be presented to Judge Moore when court convened tomorrow.

So far as any official word disclosed, the hearing after the status of the decree will revert to the attorney when court adjourned Wednesday afternoon.

Adjournment then interrupted the argument of A. L. Brooks, attorney for Mrs. Annie L. Cannon, who as co-guardian of her grandchild, Anne Cannon Reynolds II, has joined with her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Cannon Reynolds Smith, first wife of the tobacco heir, in opposing the proposed family settlement.

The family's proposal would give 37 1/2 per cent of the estate to Anne Reynolds, 25 per cent to Christopher Smith Reynolds, child of Reynolds by his second marriage to Lilly Holman, Broadway actress, less $200,000 for his mother, and the remainder to the Reynolds family for use in establishing a charitable foundation.

All litigants have agreed to the proposal except Mrs. Smith and her parents, who seek the full estate for little Anne Reynolds, who is 4 years old. Their claim is based upon the contention that the Reynolds-Cannon divorce, granted in Reno, Nev., in 1931, two years after their marriage, was invalid and that consequently Reynolds' marriage to Miss Holman was void.

Mrs. Smith waived any further claim upon Reynolds when she received a $500,000 pre-divorce settlement. After her divorce from tobacco heir who died in July, 1932, of an unexplained bullet wound at the family home near here, she married F. Brandon Smith, of Charlotte, and since has divorced him.

NASSAU PREPARES FOR ROYAL COUPLE

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 14.—
(UP)—Nassau broke out British flags and bunting tonight to greet the Duke and Duchess of Kent.

Streets were roped off for four blocks around the Pan-American airport and along the route the royal honeymooners will follow up the long hill to the government house.

Hundreds of American tourists, vacationing on Britain's "Isle of June," will line the streets when the royal pair arrive tomorrow.

The duke and duchess will arrive at 3:30 p. m. in a chartered Pan-American Airways Commodore from Kingston, Jamaica, 550 miles south of here.

Pepper in His Pants, Patrolman Asks Divorce

Pepper in his pants—that's why Patrolman Ernest Betsill wants a divorce.

Testifying Thursday before Superior Judge E. D. Thomas on his cross bill for divorce during the alimony suit of his wife, Patrolman Betsill said pepper is reason enough for wanting his freedom.

One morning, the policeman said, his wife put pepper in his pants and by the time he rode to headquarters he was exceedingly uncomfortable and embarrassed.

And, he said, his wife added insult to injury when she asked on his return home: "Did you keep warm today?"

Seeking alimony, Mrs. Betsill charges desertion, non-support for herself and three children and that her husband associated with other women.

An Open Letter to the General Assembly of Georgia

Will the General Assembly of Georgia refuse the people of our state the right to vote on any and every measure having for its purpose the relief of unjust taxation on real estate through home exemption and tax limitation?

The leaders and members of this body have admitted publicly time and again the need and justice of such relief. The governor has advocated over all tax limitation as has the president of the senate. The speaker of the house and its members have gone unqualifiedly on record favoring tax relief, and have sent approved legislation to the senate for their action. The senate has returned a substitute to the house.

Justice, Wisdom and Moderation—the tenets—the fundamental principles on which our charter was founded are the salient features of our argument for ad valorem tax relief.

Is it just to arbitrarily force a class of citizens, who love the soil of their state and who are anxious to anchor themselves within its borders by owning that soil, to pay eighty per cent of the cost of local government from revenues of less than eight per cent of gross income?

Is it wise to try to support our government almost entirely by taxing a restricted group of citizens who can no longer pay taxes from income but who in many instances have had to mortgage their savings (of the past) to pay these taxes because they have insufficient income to cover the taxes much less to pay their living expenses?

Is it moderate to arbitrarily tax one class whose savings are made obvious in real property investments and let all others whose savings are not so easily located, go free?

Is it wise, just or moderate to penalize industry and thrift as well as the pride of ownership of homes and other real property in our state?

Do we want a state whose population is made up of transients and tramps who can take their wealth in a suit case and leave its confines at a moment's notice?

Do we want stability and responsibility of citizenship that go hand in hand with the ownership of real property?

Do you want to continue the system of taxation now in operation until every real asset has been turned into a liability?

What will you do for tax revenue when the bankruptcy of your present mainstay is complete?

Will construction ever be started with private capital under the present ad valorem system and thereby put the jobless thousands of our state back to work?

Would it not be better for every man to pay a tax based on the worth of government to him and have more than enough money to pay it than to have no tax and no money?

Are you protecting the best interests of our poor citizens by frightening all capital away from construction of every kind?

Proof of the necessity of construction work is the fact that practically all relief and other government emergency funds are spent in one kind of construction or another.

The writer of this advertisement has been in Atlanta the major portion of the time that our present general assembly has been in session and has talked with many of its members both individually and collectively as well as the governor and heads of the senate and house. All profess a willingness for relief of the real estate tax burden. The house has sent exemption measures designed to give this relief and the senate has refused to pass them on to the people so they can vote on them. The senate "Over All Limitation" bill faces the same fate with the house according to Speaker Rivers.

The contention that other sources of taxation should be decided on before just relief is given to real property is not impressive as an insurmountable obstacle to the administration of justice. The people of the state have to vote on a constitutional amendment before ad valorem tax relief can be obtained but the general assembly has the power to tax practically any and everything to raise necessary revenue to replace any loss of income resulting from relief given to real property.
The people of Georgia must know what is going to be taken off before they will agree to have any other taxes put on.

Our association has and is advocating a reasonable home exemption for the purpose of relieving distressed home and farm owners, many of whom have already lost their life's savings by a levy of taxes which they could not pay and to encourage citizens to build homes and thereby furnish employment and capital activity.

We advocate a small personal property exemption for the protection of the very poor among our citizens, many of whom have had almost no income in recent years and have therefore had to pay a greater ratio of governments cost than have others more able to pay. When they receive no income they should pay no tax.

We advocate an "Over All Tax Limitation" of not more than one per cent (ten mills) on present assessed or fair valuation plus loan tax outstanding bonds.

This program protects all classes of property owners and recognizes necessity for exemption as does our state and national government in the income tax law.

We have approached our general assembly as law abiding citizens with clean hands who are interested in the welfare of the state as well as in self preservation.
We have made no arbitrary demands. We have calmly discussed ways and means with the sincere purpose of relieving our plight and with no desire to dodge our fair responsibility of citizenship and saddle an unfair load on others.

We cannot believe that the men who compose our assembly and in whom is reposed the confidence and trust of the people of our state will allow this session to pass without action, either for political or other reasons.

Are our people untrustworthy or mentally incompetent to decide a matter of major importance? If not let them vote on home exemption and tax limitation.
The people elected the members of the general assembly. Can't the general assembly trust the people to vote on these important matters?

Is democracy a failure and the constitutional rights of the people no longer operative?

In the event of the unqualified disregard for our views and wishes is it probable that the tax payers of the state will swallow their disappointment and lost faith and try to carry on under their oppressive burden of taxation without further comment or action?

If so, the ancestors who founded our state would not feel that pride in their descendants that the descendants claim to feel in their ancestors.

Is it to be the case that we who are taxed shall no longer have the right to say how we shall be taxed?

Did we elect our mayors and county commissioners to perform certain functions in local government or to form themselves into political organizations to defeat legislative measures which they do not feel that we should have a right to decide for ourselves by voting on them?
Have the public officers, whom we have elected to serve us, become our masters?

Why is it that a group of intelligent men cannot adjust minor differences to secure a major benefit?

It is quite possible that the people of the state of Georgia will not be particularly interested in the aspirations of political leaders who recognize the vital importance of the present emergency but who are unable to adjust their minor differences or who hold paramount their personal ambitions to the detriment of the citizens they are supposed to represent and protect.

At least give the people of Georgia the right to vote on this matter of major importance that so vitally affects the welfare of the state.

Field Day Exercises Held at Night To Be Innovation at Seminary

By Sally Forth.

FIELD day exercises held at night will be an innovation at Washington Seminary. This event takes place Friday evening, March 22, in the school gym. Excitement is running at a high pitch these days at the seminary as all the students, and especially the members of the Athletic Association, under whose sponsorship the event will be given, are busy completing plans to make the program as interesting and as unusual as the occasion warrants.

There will be representatives from every class taking part in the program. There will be archery contests, an exhibition volleyball game between the first and third place and the second and fourth place winners in the annual tournament; high jumping, and all those intricate exercises with dumbbells and flags. The high jumpers will get a big hand from the gallery when they are such attractive girls as Ann Gray, Betty Barlow, Bryant Holsenbach, Pauline Stauverman, Annie Laurie Kurtz and Edith Reed.

Of course the guiding spirit in the whole affair is Mary Ligon, physical director at the seminary, who is responsible for this, as well as many other new ideas at the seminary. The Athletic Association is the regular sponsor for this athletic event, which is one of the highlights each year at the seminary. Tommie Quin is the president of the association this year and her co-workers are Annette Hightower, vice president, and Mary Helmer, secretary and treasurer.

A POPULAR young Atlanta man with much foresight was being married. He was anxious that nothing go wrong to mar the perfect wedding journey that he had planned. So he took every precaution.

He even thought to take out traveler's insurance—the kind that would cover the costly and elaborate trousseau in which his bride took such pride, her beautiful jewelry; in fact, everything they would take on the trip.

They spent the perfect two weeks in Miami. There was only one thing to mar its well-planned perfection. Upon their return the bridegroom filed claim with his insurers for $75—to cover the cost of one robe de nuit.

LOVELY Laura Maddox arrived home Thursday from the fashionable Finch school in New York to spend the spring vacation with her parents, Mr.

separate dates for the same evening with two attractive girls. At the eleventh hour he realized something had to be done. Being two places at the same time was a physical impossibility.

A hurried telephone call informed one lovely belle that urgent business would take him out of town that evening. She informed him it was quite all right. She, too, had made other plans. So that was that. He thought he was perfectly safe after that conversation.

Off he went to fill his engagement at the other charmer's home. His ego was at a high pitch over his expert handling of the incident. The experts, it so happened, proved to be the two young belles.

Being intimate friends, the girls naturally compared notes and dates for that particular evening. When the young man kept his engagement with one girl, he forgot the broken engagement girl waiting him in the living room. Any emotion he had at that moment can be better imagined than described.

After he arrived, the girls decided it would be a grand idea for the trio to go to the movies. Down Peachtree they sped in his car. Every turn of the wheel was tuned to the razzing he endured for two-timing the girls.

At Brookwood station, he "couldn't take it any longer." Slowing up his motor, he threw the girls a dollar bill and jumped out of the car. He hailed a taxi and vanished into the night. Don't you think the girls have every reason to pat themselves on the back for the expert way they handled the incident?

FATE decreed that Catherine Allen Crosby should first see the light of day in the military hospital at West Point, N. Y. Consequently, her Atlanta relatives and friends will be forced to defer the pleasure of seeing the baby until later.

She was born on March 9, the daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. George D. Crosby, U. S. A. Her mother is the former Frances Barnett, and her father is in the science department at the United States Military Academy.

The baby is the namesake of her paternal and maternal grandparents. Catherine is for her

Picture of Wesleyan College To Be Placed in State Capitol

That the picture of Wesleyan College has been placed in the state capital of Georgia will elicit wide interest and appeal to the loyalty of every Wesleyan alumna. This painting was a part of the Georgia exhibit at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition in 1933 and 1934, and at the request of Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the National Wesleyan Alumnae Association, was given to the Atlanta Wesleyan alumnae by the Georgia commission, of which Scott Allen was chairman and Russell Whitman a director. This commission was appointed by the governor to select the most important historic places in Georgia and to have pictures of these in the Georgia exhibit. Wesleyan College was chosen because of its outstanding position in the history of the education of women, it being the first college in the world chartered by a sovereign state to grant degrees to women.

Mrs. Edward G. Warner, presidential grandmother, Mrs. Herbert Crosby, of Washington, D. C., and Allen is the given name of Mrs. Stephen Barnett, of Atlanta. It fell to the lot of her uncle, Dr. Stephen Barnett, Jr., to be the only relative lucky enough to glimpse the baby. He is serving his internship at the New York hospital, and rushed to West Point the moment he heard of the arrival of the future belle.

dent of the Atlanta Alumnae Association, and the members of her organization invite all Wesleyan alumnae and their friends to the presentation of the picture to the state on Monday, March 18. The hour for the exercises will be 1 o'clock, the noon recess for the members of the legislature, who will attend. It is appropriate that this picture should be placed in the capital during the present legislative session, which is the 100th anniversary since the granting of the charter to Wesleyan '00 years ago. This will be a preliminary to the extensive program being arranged for the 100th centennial celebration of the college.

In both the senate and the house of representatives the act granting the charter will be read preceding adjournment to the west corridor of the capitol facing the Washington street entrance, where the picture has been so advantageously placed. In behalf of the Wesleyan alumnae, Dr. Dore B. Anderson, president of Wesleyan, will present the picture which will be accepted for the state by Governor Talmadge. The names appearing in the original act represent many of the most prominent men of the south. They are James O. Andrews, Samuel K. Hodges, John W. Tully, Ignatius A. Few, William J. Parks, Lovick Pierce, William Arnold, Alexander Spear, Thomas Sanford, George W. Pierce, Elijah Sinclair, Henry T. Lamar, J. J. Cowles, Robert Collins, Georgia Jewett, Ossian Gregory, Everard Hamilton, Henry Solomons.

Augustus B. Longstreet, Walter T. Colquitt, James A. Nesbit.

A group of girls, great-granddaughters or near relatives of these founders, will be special guests and invited to stand near the picture when it is presented. Some of these young girls are Emma Stephens, great-niece of Alexander H. Stephens, staunchest supporter of the act; Augusta Dunbar, great-granddaughter of General Augustus Longstreet; Dorothy Arkwright Giddings, great-granddaughter of Walter T. Colquitt; Eleanor Clay, great-granddaughter of Henry Solomons; Susan Pierce, great-granddaughter of Dr. George W. F. Pierce; Mildred Hatcher, great-granddaughter of Ignatius A. Few; Belle Collins Henphill, great-granddaughter of Robert Collins; Jacqueline Howard, great-granddaughter of the Rev. John Howard, Wesleyan founder, and Mary Seabrook Smith, great-niece of Judge Howard Palmer and president of the Wesleyan senior class of 1935.

Wesleyan consecrated the halls of the legislature when Georgia won the imperishable distinction of having founded the first chartered college in the world to confer a degree upon women. In a large measure victory was due to Alexander H. Stephens, who, at the age of 24, made a convincing speech in defense of higher education for women before the Georgia legislature that "an act to incorporate the Georgia Female College located in the city of Macon" was assented to December 23, 1836, and signed by William Schley, governor.

Miss Irene Rich To Be Honored At Luncheon at Woman's Club

Miss Irene Rich, popular moving picture star and radio speaker, will be the honor guest at luncheon at the Atlanta Woman's Club on Monday, March 18, at 1 o'clock. Miss Rich needs no introduction to thousands of admirers. Her many successes on the legitimate stage and the screen include playing with the beloved Will Rogers. Mrs. Odie Poundstone is general chairman in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. J. Guy Williams and her committee will decorate the club.

Special guests will be Governor and Mrs. Eugene Talmadge, Mayor James L. Key, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ponder, J. W. Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter, John Paschal, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Biggers, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Titus, Mrs. Oscar Palmour and Mrs. P. J. McGovern. Assisting Mrs. Max Land, president, and Mrs. Poundstone in receiving will be the officers and past presidents of the club, Mrs. Cliff Collins and her hospitality committee, including Mrs. W. C. Jarragin, Mrs. John F. Boyd, Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, chairman of Better Films, and other members of the drama department, and chairmen of departments.

Mrs. Bonita Crowe, music chairman for the club, will present one of Atlanta's outstanding vocalists. The luncheon is open to the public because of Miss Rich's popularity and 150 places will be accepted. Reservations at $1 each may be made by calling the club at Hemlock 4636 and must be made before noon on Saturday.

Crawford Y. W. A.
Mary Crawford Y. W. A. of the Inman Park Baptist church conducted the mid-week prayer service at the church. The topic discussed was home missions. Miss Lucille Burkett, program chairman, planned the program. Those taking part were Misses Trez Bird, Rena Mitchell, Prentiss McIntyre, Mrs. Jim DeLamette. Scripture was read by Mrs. W. T. Sturgus. This auxiliary also met at the home of Miss Trez Bird Monday for a social hour at which time scrapbooks were made for personal service work during the month of February. These books will be given to children at the Good Will Center.

21st Birthday of Lebanon O.E.S. Is Celebrated

The twenty-first anniversary of the Lebanon Chapter No. 108, O.E.S., was observed at the meeting Thursday evening in the Capitol View Masonic temple. The honor guests were Miss Ethel J. Jackson, past grand matron of the grand chapter of Georgia, Mrs. Pauline Dillon, grand conductress of the grand chapter of Georgia, and the past matrons and past patrons of Lebanon chapter.

After a business meeting an interesting and entertaining program was enjoyed, featuring solo by Mrs. LaVer Mitchell and Baritone Jackson. Hawaiian music by Bill Ralph and Rabbit of the Peachtree Arcade Conservatory; a beautiful drill by the Atlanta Rainbow Assembly No. 5, and a play by the Grand Park Rainbow Assembly No. 4.

A beautiful birthday cake, decorated with roses and the emblematic star, was presented to the chapter by Mrs. A. M. Beck, mother of Mrs. Veta Black, worthy matron of Lebanon. Officers of the grand chapter of Georgia, O.E.S., present were: Dr. Guy Lunsford, grand patron; Miss Ethel J. Jackson, past grand matron; Harry Garrett, grand warden; Mrs. Pauline Dillon, grand conductress; Mrs. Ruth Strickland, grand treasurer; Mrs. Grace Bramblett and W. A. Lynn, grand instructors.

NANCY PAGE Shoe Bags For Traveling Are Boon to Any Neat Packer

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

"You say you want a recipe for a chocolate angel food as well as the regular white one? Just a minute and I'll look through the files for such a recipe. Oh, here it is, it is called Neapolitan cake and it makes two cakes, one chocolate and one white. After the two cakes are baked they are split into halves crosswise and then a chocolate pat is fitted to a white loaf half and vice versa.

Nancy was answering a call from a woman who said she had heard that Nancy was an authority on food and different foods. She said she knew that the cakes seemed expensive because you use so many egg whites, but after all eggs are cheap, just now and more than that the finished result is two cakes and not one.

Nancy told her that she could get the recipe with one angel food cake pan because she could bake one cake first, and then after it was taken from the Mesdames J. L. Jackson, J. W. Atty, Ryland Knight, W. P. Warren, J. Smith, P. Phillips, L. Brown, F. D. Burge, G. C. Green and A. S. Johnson.

Mrs. W. J. Neel, Forsyth, is president emerita, and Mrs. George Westmoreland, Atlanta, is vice president emerita.

Georgia Baptist women have a very fine feeling of gratitude and appreciation for the high type of work that is being done by their president, Mrs. Thompson. She has given herself unstintingly and rapid progress is being made under her capable administration.

Mrs. J. C. Lanier, of West Point, Georgia trustee for the W. M. U. Training school in Louisville, Ky., brought a message of great interest.

Mrs. D. Talmage Ellis, of Macon, state Margaret fund chairman, effectively presented the work of this department.

An appropriate memorial service was conducted by Mrs. W. A. Adkins, of Augusta, Mrs. J. W. Atty and Dr. T. C. Dismore, of Atlanta, in honor of the Georgia Baptist hospital. The report of Mrs. C. F. Cate, Quitman, concluding the official business of the convention.

The closing inspirational address, "The Co-operative Program" was ably presented by Rev. T. F. Callaway, president, of the Georgia Baptist convention. This closing address was truly a benediction that will linger in the minds and hearts of Georgia Baptist women. Among the many fine thoughts expressed by Rev. Callaway was the following: "With all my heart I am committed to every enterprise fostered by Georgia Baptist women."

Clarence Rowe, E. B. Yancey and Mrs. Crutchfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon Reservations Made Are Complimented For Circle Benefit

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moon, whose marriage of March 9 at the Chalmers Memorial church paragon of Charleston, S. C., was of interest to their friends in the Carolinas and Georgia, continue to be feted by diners, bridge-ten and luncheons during their stay in Atlanta on their motor trip south.

Mrs. W. T. Medlin gave a wedding dinner inviting the immediate family of Mr. Moon to meet the Moon family at 8 o'clock on Sunday. Mrs. Medlin gave a buffet supper Sunday complementing the couple, and Mrs. Esther Moon, the groom's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anthony, of Rome, circle, entertained at a bridge-dinner Monday evening. On Tuesday, Mrs. George David Jackson complimented Mr. and Mrs. Moon at a luncheon at her home on Alhambra avenue. On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kovalski of Oglethorpe avenue, entertained at a dinner and friends called later in the evening to offer congratulations.

Mrs. Moon is the former Miss Mary Frances Burton, and holds a responsibility in the Western Union of office in Charlotte.

Mr. Moon, an Atlantan, is the second son of Mrs. Esther Moon, of this city. Mr. Moon was in the service twelve years and has been stationed in Hawaii, Cuba, China and the Philippines. He is connected with the Rubber Company, of Charlotte, N. C. After March 23, Mr. and Mrs. Moon will be at home to their friends at 625 East Tremont, in Charlotte, N. C.

Miss Louise Butts Will Wed March 23

Cordial interest in the approaching marriage of Miss Louise Butts and Alex Lindholm, which will be solemnized March 23 at St. John's Episcopal church in College Park, Miss Butts will sponsor a luncheon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. The bidding: (Figure after bid refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

West opened the queen of clubs, dummy winning with the ace. The ten of hearts was covered by the jack and won by Mr. Farrer's king. The ten of clubs was led in East's winning bid. For want of a better lead, East attempted to confuse declarer by laying down the ace of spades. This was ruffed by declarer and a small club was led to dummy's jack. A low heart was led and when East played low, declarer finessed the seven. The ace of hearts was cashed and East threw in the queen of trumps.

At this point East was helpless. To lead the king of spades would permit declarer to ruff and enter dummy with the last club to obtain discards on dummy's spades.

East chose to lead a diamond, which Mr. Farrer won with the queen in dummy. The queen of spades was led, and East ducked. It would have done him no good to cover since Dummy's eight of clubs was an entry. Mr. Farrer had not been deceived by East's earlier lead of the ace of spades. When East ducked, he discarded the ten of diamonds and claimed the rest of the tricks, making his contract plus an over-trick.

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please enclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

CROCHETED CORNERS.

Can't you imagine how lovely a tea-cloth or scarf—a luncheon set—a chair back and many other more lines would be if decorated with this lovely crocheted corner that looks just like Cluny lace? You can do it in a finer cotton than you have ever used. It measures 7-1/2 inches on the longer edge—or in string for a larger corner. The edging makes a handsome finish around the piece decorated. There is a smaller corner, too, for napkins and a medallion to finish up the chair back set. If you want something entirely in crocheted lace, join the corners to form a square.

In pattern 3222 you will find complete instructions for making the corner, an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern, send 10 cents to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Incarcerated.

It would be most interesting if I could follow the trail of my "Red Book on Play." I suppose every author who ever penned a line tries to visualize the places reached by his brain child. I recently sent one of mine to prison for an indeterminate sentence.

The boys in the Harris county jail, Houston, Texas, have a flare for bridge, but no cash. The long term prisoners want to improve their contract as a pastime and possibly, for future reference. So they commissioned one Edward Casas to write to me, requesting that I send them my latest book on the game.

So I sent him a clean one.

The boys in the Harris county jail, Houston, Texas, have a flare for bridge, but no cash. The long term prisoners want to improve their contract as a pastime and possibly, for future reference. So they commissioned one Edward Casas to write to me, requesting that I send them my latest book on the game.

"It doesn't matter at all if it's sold," the prisoner wrote.

So I sent him a clean one.

HOLDING OPPONENTS TOO LIGHTLY.

A fine example of astute declarer's play was exhibited by Mr. Farrer, of Boston, in the grand national convention held a month ago. A well known New York expert who occupied the East seat felt very sure about his double because declarer was out-of-town. He found to his regret that they play good bridge in Boston, too.

1-4 A solid-looking double.
West opened the queen of clubs, dummy winning with the ace. The ten of hearts was covered by the jack and won by Mr. Farrer's king. The ten of clubs was led in East's winning bid. For want of a better lead, East attempted to confuse declarer by laying down the ace of spades. This was ruffed by declarer and a small club was led to dummy's jack. A low heart was led and when East played low, declarer finessed the seven. The ace of hearts was cashed and East threw in the queen of trumps.

At this point East was helpless. To lead the king of spades would permit declarer to ruff and enter dummy with the last club to obtain discards on dummy's spades.

East chose to lead a diamond, which Mr. Farrer won with the queen in dummy. The queen of spades was led, and East ducked. It would have done him no good to cover since Dummy's eight of clubs was an entry. Mr. Farrer had not been deceived by East's earlier lead of the ace of spades. When East ducked, he discarded the ten of diamonds and claimed the rest of the tricks, making his contract plus an over-trick.

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please enclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

CROCHETED CORNERS.

Can't you imagine how lovely a tea-cloth or scarf—a luncheon set—a chair back and many other more lines would be if decorated with this lovely crocheted corner that looks just like Cluny lace? You can do it in a finer cotton than you have ever used. It measures 7-1/2 inches on the longer edge—or in string for a larger corner. The edging makes a handsome finish around the piece decorated. There is a smaller corner, too, for napkins and a medallion to finish up the chair back set. If you want something entirely in crocheted lace, join the corners to form a square.

In pattern 3222 you will find complete instructions for making the corner, an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern, send 10 cents to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Cooper, Sten Starred Together at the Grand

Co-starring Gary Cooper and Anna Sten, "The Wedding Night," with a supporting cast including Ralph Bellamy, Helen Vinson and Siegfried Rumann, starts a week's run today at Loew's Grand theater. This Samuel Goldwyn production, directed by King Vidor, is Miss Sten's first film with an American background. She is seen as the daughter of Polish immigrants, living on a Connecticut farm, not far from the ancestral home of the young novelist, Tony Barrett (Gary Cooper).

Tony's novels have lost the quality which made them famous. Success, money and dissipation have their toll. Tony's publisher urges him to go away, to get a grip on himself, and write a more sincere story. Tony and his wife, Dora (Helen Vinson), go to the Connecticut farm, Dora is soon bored, and returns to New York; Tony has observed with interest the Polish family on the farm next to his. He has realized that here is material for his next book.

Tony scarcely guesses, however, how much his decision to stay on the farm is influenced by his attraction to Manya (Anna Sten), the daughter of the neighboring Nowaks. Manya is as strongly drawn to him, to the American life he represents, so different from the peasant life to which her mother has been sacrificed.

Manya's father is arranging her marriage to a young farmer in the vicinity. Frederick (Ralph Bellamy) wants to marry her because she is strong enough to labor for him, to work in the fields, the house, and to bear many children. Tony and his way of living is in strange contrast to this destiny. Manya grows more and more to depend on Tony.

There ensues a dramatic series of events which bring a beautiful production to a thrilling climax.

In 'The Secret Bride'

Barbara Stanwyck, in an entirely new kind of role, with Warren William as leading man, comes to the Fox theater Friday in her latest Warner Brothers' production, "The Secret Bride."

The picture, based on the play by Leonard Ide, is a thrilling drama of political intrigue which involves two baffling murders and the impeachment of the governor of the state.

on bribery charges. It is said to provide Miss Stanwyck with her greatest opportunity for the tense emotional characterization for which she is famous.

Secretly married to the attorney-general, she learns on her wedding day that her father, the governor, has been charged with bribery and her husband has to prosecute him. Warren Williams plays the attorney-general.

The role of the murder investigator is played by Douglas Dumbrille, while Glenda Farrell has the part of his sweetheart. The strong supporting cast includes Arthur Byron, Grant Mitchell, Henry O'Neal, Arthur Aylesworth, Willard Robertson and William Davidson.

"Popeye" smashes his way to further popularity in the politely titled film, "Pleased to Meetcha." And Towhee, the old maestro, Ben Bernie and all his lads, appear in a bit of musical nonsense titled "Hark Ye Hark." Paramount Pictorial and Fox News complete the program.

On the screen, through Saturday, the Capitol offers Zane Grey's "Rocky Mountain Mystery," starring Randolph Scott, Ann Sheridan and "Chick" Sale. The vaudeville has the Charlie Mack unit, "Avenue of Happiness," on the stage.

MAIDEN VOYAGE

By Kathleen Norris

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: Antoinette, 28, attractive and ambitious but unable to find a job she likes well enough to really try to hold, lives in a cheap top-floor San Francisco flat with her sister Brenda and brother Cliff. Tony meets Lawrence Bellamy, editor of the Journal of Commerce, who has only ad soliciting to offer. Despite her disappointment she likes him very much. Diffident Harry Kerr, who works with Cliff, drives in frequently and Brenda hopes Tony will marry him. But Tony says she can't love him. Charles Greenwood, city editor of the Call, has to discharge the society editor and gives Tony a chance at $2 a week. She finds the most friendly and helpful. Bass Cutter, who gets $100 a week as a columnist, has an expensive apartment and Fitch, the managing editor, dines there almost nightly. Bass always brings in a bundle of notes which some one has to whip into shape and she comes to depend on Tony. When Bass suggests that they invite another man from the office to dine with them and Fitch, and that they go to the theater, Tony is in a quandary. She decides to ask Harry's advice. He insists she must not be too sure of herself. Tony says she will go to the office to consider his proposal. She tells herself he is proud about the Cutter affair and decides to go now GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT X.

Lawrence had continued in newspaper work, refusing to give up the career that interested him to become a rich woman's husband, and as his star had begun to rise somehow—Tony sensed—Ruth's had begun to fall. First there had been money loss, a great deal of it, and the sale of Merrivale Hills, and then failing health. Through them Ruth had clung all the more tenaciously to her wonderful husband and son. Then had come the San Francisco venture and the beautiful house in Piedmont, with Lawrence growing handsomer and cleverer and more successful every day, and the Journal promising to be a success. Ruth had been 40 now, to his eager vital 30.

But nothing had been disturbing, nothing had forced upon her the realization of their changing positions until little Peter's death. That had brought her house of cards down about her ears, with a shattering crash; there could be no more illusions, no more hopes. She had sunk within a few short weeks into the shrinking nervous condition in which Tony first had seen her. She had felt herself the middle-aged childless wife of a rising and brilliant man, and not all his kindly matter-of-fact affection and not all her mother's anxious spoiling and loving could seem to save her.

Happiness is absolutely relative, Betsy. Tony said to her sister. "I don't know more and more every day. There's no use trying to estimate whether persons are happy or not; you can't tell until you know what you're comparing it to. Ruth has so much less than she used to have that she's almost in melancholia. We have so much more than we ever thought we'd have that we can hardly keep our feet on the ground. And yet even now we haven't one-tenth— I mean in actual income and position and possessions—of what the Bellamys have."

"Poor thing! It's the little boy's death, I suppose. She can't forget it."

"And feeling so much older than he. If she were 38 instead of 43 I suppose there might be another child."

"He's—how old?"

"About 32 or 33, I think."

"Ten years, and on three runs in neat decades," said Brenda.

"That's true. Good gracious, she's 20 years older than I am!" Tony murmured under her breath.

"You really like her, don't you?" Brenda questioned in the tone of one thinking aloud.

"I like her liking me," Tony answered after a moment's thought, in honesty that surprised even herself. "I don't mean that," she said laughing. "I do like her—you have to like Ruth, she's so generous and kind and all that. But, of course, she's not the personality that Larry is."

"Oh, Tony, you're so beautiful, so firm and young and glowing and happy—have mercy on her!" Brenda thought. But she dared say nothing. She could only console herself with the prayer that it was purely her imagination that in the tone of Tony was quoting Larry Bellamy with a new significance; that Larry was managing to be at home when Tony was there. "If only they'd move back to Piedmont where they belong," Brenda thought nervously.

But far from returning to Piedmont, the Bellamys rented an apartment in the smartest of the California street places—a roof apartment with a wonderful view of the city and determined to remain in San Francisco.

On a certain rainy March afternoon Tony went up there unannounced with the freedom of a favored friend, gave Chevalier her wet raincoat and dripping umbrella and entered the living room to find a big fire blazing and Lawrence reading a valley paper in a deep chair beside it.

"Oh, delicious fire—I'm freezing!" Tony exclaimed joyfully. "Hello, Larry."

"No-o-o. I had some work to do and I thought I might as well do it here."

"At a bridge lunch somewhere. She'll be in. She said to be sure to keep you if you came in."

"Oh-h-h-h!" Tony shuddered luxuriously. "I'm on a story, but the woman is right up the street here at the Clairmont and she won't be home until 6."

"Then you're here until 6?" Larry said with a glance at the clock.

"The truth is, Tony said, her cheeks bright from the windy climb up the hill, "the truth is I'm glad to see you alone for a minute, for I'm in a tight corner."

"All right, go ahead and tell me about it."

Tony settled herself in a chair, her brown slim hands extended on the arms. "I was sitting in the editorial room, turning to go, sometimes to the fire."

"Well, it's Greenwood, our city editor."

"What's Greenwood want now? Making love to you?"

"Making love to me? Hear him! He wants me to do a sensational story for him about the Emergency hospital. He wants me to walk out into Market street, with no money in my purse and no cards of identification on me, and faint."

Lawrence was shaking his head slowly.

"Greenwood's old-fashioned," he said. "That sort of thing isn't a big story."

"Greenwood thinks they don't treat people right there?"

"That's the idea, I believe."

"Well, but then—Lawrence's slow smile showed in his brown face. "Then whatever was wrong, you'd get," he said.

"Exactly!"

"Why, I don't think he has any right to ask you to do a thing like that," the man decided slowly. "I think I'd decline."

"The thing is, Larry—this is very pleasant, having a fire here and getting warm, and talking it over!" Tony broke off to say.

"Pleasant is right!"

"No, but the thing is," she resumed, "that I hope some day to do signed stuff and get into real special article work, and he says this is my chance."

"You'll have plenty of chances," Lawrence said rubbing his hands together, looking into the fire. "You don't have to worry about that. I wouldn't go in for that sensational stuff; in the first place it isn't good journalism. That's the worst of that crowd down there—Fitch and Allen, all of them. It's outdated, that stuff."

"Still, a job's a job, Larry."

"Yes, but you're a good deal surer of a job than you were six months ago. You could probably get on any of the other papers now. No, I'd tell Greenwood to let his hoop."

Tony's eyes were dark with sort of X—Speeding Stars.

Recently, I told you how the models of the sun and the planets. If you worked out one of the plans, I hope it made clear the differences in sizes; but it could not give the whole story.

To go further with the solar system, we should need to give motion to the planets. Each ought to move around the sun, twisting while it does so. Even Mercury, which always has one side toward the sun, twists once during a journey.

The sun also twists. We have learned this by watching the change in place of sunspots. The sun twists around once in about four weeks.

Thus we see the planets and the sun in motion. There are other motions as well. The sun is speeding through space at the rate of 12 miles per second, going toward the bright star Vega, in the star group known as Lyra, or "the harp."

The sun is taking the planets along on this journey. Meanwhile the star Vega is speeding toward us. Will there be a crash between Vega and our solar system? Possibly, in a million of years; but a little difference in angle may make us miss Vega, thus saving the human race.

Every light in the sky is moving. Even stars of the Big Dipper are on their way somewhere. Five are going in a direction we may call "north-west," and two are going "southeast." In a thousand centuries, people will no longer see the present form of a dipper. The star group will look more like a chair with a slanting back.

Stars are moving at different rates. Some travel only a few miles per second. Others rush through space more than a hundred miles per second.

Long, careful work has gone into learning about the size and motion of the stars.

We have reason to trust the words of those who have given so much study to the stars. They tell us, and they have told us many times, about eclipses of the sun and moon, years ahead of time. They tell about the return of comets long before the comets come in sight.

The leaflet called "Marvels of the Sky" contains a diagram showing sizes of the planets and their relative positions to the sun. It tells about Donati's comet and other wonders. If you want a copy, without charge, send a 3-cent stamp to return envelope to me in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Farley, Ph.D.

There were NO "KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE" IN KING ARTHUR'S TIME.

Although many historians are doubtful whether such a person as Arthur ever lived, others concede that there may have been a British chieftain by that name, but state that his "existence and deeds have very little to do with the original of the cycle of romances which have since been given."

He is supposed to have lived in the sixth century and to have been killed at the Battle of Camlan. Authentic history, however, does not have a record of his actual existence—much less the existence of his legendary court and "Knights of the Round-table."

Lindsey, Thomas, Hayes and Williams Arrive At Camp

Frank Rickey, well-known Cardinal scout and brother of Branch Rickey, the president of same, was in our town yesterday and very reticent he was.

Rickey was looking for a few prospects here but chugged on off to Florida and Bradenton where the Cardinals are training.

"I won't say we'll repeat," he said, speaking of those Cardinals who last year defeated the Detroiters for the championship of the world. "I won't say that but I will say we'll be in the race. I'd say the team that beats us will win the pennant."

He thinks the Giants will be tough this year as they were last; that Babe Ruth will help the Braves and that the Deans, Dix and Daffy, will have a good year.

When Frank Rickey was questioned about one other thing, the report that next year will find Brother Branch as head of the New York Giants, he shied like a saddle horse at a white stump by the road.

"I don't know a thing. I'm dumb," he said. "How'd I ever get to talking with you anyhow? I'm here to ask you questions about some young players."

Whereupon, after a few more idle questions, he left for Bradenton and the Cardinal camp.

The Cardinals did not have such a good year last season, despite the World Series, according to reports here and there.

It is known that one gentleman who went to New York last year and rashly mentioned money, and that maybe he would spend it for a ball club, had the Cardinals and Giants offered him.

The story goes that Stoneham, the Giant owner, is in poor health and wants to get out. And the Cardinals are for sale. Or were last winter.

Night baseball will help the majors out financially. Even though the boys do look down their noses at it just now. It brings new customers to fill the spots left vacant by the jaded ones.

HE WAS BOOTING IN A WINNER.

An Atlanta insurance office paid off on this one last week.

The policyholder was walking along at the races in New Orleans one afternoon. He had put down a few bets in the pari-mutuel windows, there being no self-appointed guardian of his moral welfare there to tell him how very baddy-baddy he was being, poor thing. He was feeling good.

All of a sudden a beautiful young girl grabbed him by the arm.

"You have got to save me. They have poisoned my jockey and you must ride my horse in this race. You are the only one who can do it."

He protested that he weighed 170 pounds, which was too much, but the beautiful young girl dragged him on and so he donned the racing silks and went to the paddock.

He had never ridden before but he climbed aboard the horse and they paraded to the post. It seemed perfectly natural.

The barrier was sprung and he got the horse away. It was dusty and close but he saw an opening and shot his horse for it. Another horse bumped his mount and they went down. He was conscious of an excruciating pain in one foot and knew no more.

Because at that moment he awoke from his dream to find he had an excruciating pain in his left foot. He had been to the races in the afternoon all right but this was at night and he was in his hotel room. He had gone to bed with the electric fan going on a table at the foot of his bed. And during the dream he had tried to boot that nag home and stuck his toe in the electric fan, cutting it so badly it had to be amputated.

He had an accident policy and the company paid off. 'Tis an honest story even though it be an ad for these accident policies.

THE DRAMA UNLEASHED.

The dogs of drama have been unleashed, my compatriots, and the good year 1935 is going to be a pulse-quicker from now on until the finish wire is reached at midnight, December 31.

When Babe Ruth was sent to the Boston Braves after 21 years of service with the New York Yankees, he started the kaleidoscopic whirl of events which are in the super class.

There'll come a day, of course, when Dizzy Dean will stand out there in the pitching box, finger the ball, eye the batter, wind up and let 'er go—

While at the bat a towering figure will become tense, cock up a leg and swing—

A home run for Babe Ruth? An infield out? A fly ball? A strike-out for Dizzy Dean?

Tie that one for drama—the meeting of Babe Ruth and Dizzy Dean.

And when Carl Hubbell winds up to let fly at Ruth in the Polo Grounds with the "benches black with people"—more drama.

And in the fight game the greatest heavyweight natural in years is coming up. Max Schmeling did it a few days ago when he defeated Steve Hamas to bound back into the heavyweight picture as the leading contender.

In June they will meet in New York—Schmeling with his Hitler and nazi background against Max Baer. The fight has everything, including two men who will fight and who have good right hands with which to do it.

Here and there are lesser dramas of these major ones holding the spot. It should be one of those good writing years in which there are enough stimuli to the motor nerves to keep one perpetually interested.

A FEW ITEMS.

Vanderbilt football fans, and any others interested, can hear a radio welcome to Ray Morrison, new coach, at 10:30 Sunday night if their radios can tune in station WSM at Nashville. . . .

Tropical Park's mutual pooling on opening day, March 11, was a neat $200,000, an increase over last year. . . . The Kentucky Derby will be run this year on May 4, the Preakness on May 11. . . . Omaha is the wise money favorite for the Derby. The wise money is not always so wise. . . . Crackers training at Daytona Beach will have difficulty with the sand in the outfield. . . .

Three Southern association clubs are training in Florida: Nashville at Tallahassee, Chattanooga at Panama City and the Crackers at Daytona. . . . The Chattanooga club is stopping at Bob Sealy's hotel, "The Cove," on St. Andrews bay, a beautiful bay and a real fishing spot. . . . George Myshraff, of Atlanta, has probably the best setter prospect in the south in his Jasper Prince, winner of two derbies this season.

FAST AS A HARLOW DIVORCE.

I have been reading the news from the training camps with interest but so far no pitcher has come up with as much speed as that recent Jean Harlow divorce.

ROME GOLFER SHOOT GREAT 68 AT CAPITAL CITY

Alvin Everett Practices for Metro Open; Is Southpaw Player.

By Ralph McGill.

Four golfers from Rome came over to our town yesterday for practice at the Capital City Club in preparation for the Metropolitan Open to be played there on March 30 and 31.

And let me tell you this: One of those boys, Alvin Everett, was smoking. It was Nero that fiddled while Rome burned. This boy from Rome burned up the Capital City course with a brilliant 68.

Alvin Everett is a southpaw golfer. And a youngster who is one of the stars of the Rome Country Club, over which the state tournament may be played. They regard him in Rome as one of their best prospects.

NICE STROKE.

Yesterday afternoon Howard Beckett, the Capital Club professional and a good judge of golfers, had this to say:

"The boy certainly has a fine swing, nice and easy. About the best left-handed swing I ever saw. It's a little difficult to look at them as one does a right-handed one but it was easy to see he had a nice, smooth stroke. He had lots of power, too."

"You know what he did?" asked Mr. Beckett, with awe in his voice. "He almost got himself an ace on No. 18. It's 225 yards and his tee shot stopped just five inches from the cup. It was headed for it."

SHOOT 35-33.

Par at the Capital City is 71 in summer but the winter par of 70 was trimmed by 2 strokes as Everett southpawed his way around the 18 holes. He had a 35-33.

With him were three other Romans, Leon Covington, Bill Harmon and Wessell Green, who went in with a 75. Covington had a 78 and Harmon a 79. Everett is, along with Billy McWilliams, of Rome, two of Rome's favorite entries in the Metropolitan and state.

TOURNEY TO ROME.

The committee for the state tournament, incidentally, will go to Rome next month for a look at the club there. Certain requirements have been carried out and it is quite likely that the state will be awarded to Rome. It is really the logical site. And Rome has yet to entertain the state tournament.

Meanwhile, plans are going forward to provide a special Pullman out of Pinehurst, N. C., to bring the professional golfers from the tournament there direct to Atlanta for the Metropolitan open here. A great field is expected for the 54-hole event.

Lawson Little, British and national amateur champion, may attend and play in an exhibition before the tournament here.

Allison Tosses Racquet Aside For Radio Set

AUSTIN, Texas, March 14.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, the nation's No. 1 tennis star, has tossed aside his racquet and turned to the radio for a change of pace.

He has even thrown down his off-season standby, golf, in a zealous effort to contact more and more in distant parts of the globe than any other American operator. He spends many hours daily before a powerful short wave set in the basement of his apartment, tinkering with the dials.

"I'm forgetting about everything else until this contest is over," Allison laughingly remarked. "It will be concluded next week and I expect to begin my tennis work in earnest then to get in condition for competition."

He has definitely decided against entering early tournaments at Pinehurst and White Sulphur Springs but will play in Houston, Texas, April 1 and possibly go to Atlanta later. Allison said he would like to skip the American zone eliminations and does not, at present, intend to enter. Sidney Woods and "two or three young players" likely will be picked for the Davis Cup squad in Allison's opinion.

"Frankie Parker ought to be on the squad," he said. "Johnny Van Ryn likely can have a place if he will accept." Van Ryn is Allison's old doubles partner.

Allen and Honson Will Meet Tonight

Frankie Allen and James Honson, East Point pride, will top a boxing card tonight at the East Point auditorium.

Allen was injured in an auto accident nearly a year ago, and came back two weeks ago, after several months of intensive training to hand W. L. Young Land a two-round knockout on the last card here. Both fighters carry terrific power in both fists.

Chester Conklin, who has come into prominence lately through winning his last three starts at the East Point arena, will meet plenty of opposition in the eight-round semi-main bout, when he engages a bitter rival in Howell Rakestraw, who recently defeated him in a close decision bout. Although Rakestraw outweighs him, approximately 25 pounds, Conklin expects to avenge that defeat.

Battling Gammel, of Dallas, Ga., meets K. O. Pope, of Dallas, in a six-round main preliminary. Dale Nichols, local pugilist, will meet "Blue Goose" Norris, of College Park, in a return engagement, scheduled for four rounds.

Purple Swimmers Meet Emory Frosh

Emory's freshman swimming team meets Boys' High at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in a meet at the Emory pool.

The freshman opened their season with a smashing victory over Tech High last Friday. The Purples defeated the Y. M. C. A. team last Friday.

Grady Clay, Fritz McDuffie, Everett Bishop and John Naft will lead the Emory team in action. Jones and Thrash head the Boys' High squad.

George Cornett, of The Constitution, was the first staff man from an Atlanta newspaper at the Atlanta baseball camp at Daytona Beach. Today he gives you, above, a picture of the squad of pitchers, catchers and a few infielders and outfielders, as they started on their run around the park. The lower photograph shows Manager Eddie Moore, at the left, distributing bats to some of his players. They are, left to right, Manager Moore himself, Joe Palmisano, catcher; Harry Kelly, pitcher; Lynn Nelson, pitcher, and Henry Oana, outfielder. The Constitution brings you the first staff pictures, following those by news services, and during the season will bring you the first complete box score and baseball service. From the camp Jimmy Jones writes his daily stories of the Crackers, the baseball stories Atlantans read for news.

PRIMO FAVORED OVER 'THE IMP'

By Eddie Brietz.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—Those behemoths of the ring—Primo and Count Dracula—will be the main attraction at each other in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night for the privilege of moving up a notch in the heavyweight elimination tournament.

The winner of the 10-round engagement is to be pitted with the victor of the March 22 brawl between Art Lasky and the veteran, James J. Braddock, the idea being to send the survivor against Max Schmeling in the tourney finale.

Thus, having developed a challenger for Max Baer's title, the Garden hopes to throw him into the ring with the champion in June to give the outdoor season a sporting sendoff.

Carnegie, reported in even better shape than when he whipped Jack Sharkey for the title in 1933, was a 3-to-1 favorite in Broadway betting circles tonight. He is openly predicted to win the fight, and a baseball player, greener Impellittere within seven rounds.

Both battlers have worked hard for this engagement. Carnegie did his training at Orangeburg and has worked down to around 260 pounds, the figure he expects to scale when he enters the ring. Impellittere will weigh in a few pounds lighter.

The bout gives Impellittere his big chance. He got off to a likely start as a heavy by almost beating the clever Tommy Loughran, but he has been little action in recent months because of illness. He will be making his first big time appearance since his Garden fight with the German, Walter Neusel.

Manager Harry Lenny, who has been bringing the big youngster along, pronounces "The Imp" ready for a real test. If he can upset the dope and beat Carnegie decisively he'll get his chance with the other Baer challengers.

Steve Dudas, Edgewater, N. J., and Abe Feldman, New York, will clash in the eight-round semi-final.

Donitanga Defeats G.M.A. Juniors, 18-10

The Donitanga Club defeated the G. M. A. Juniors in a fast and close basketball game on the College Park court. The score was 18-10.

The game was hard fought throughout and was not decided until the closing minutes of play. Lyle and Petry starred for the winners, while Hardy and Smollen were best for the Juniors.

THE LINEUPS. G. M. A. Youngblood, Dusan, Price, Corpening (2), Perch, Smollen (2), Lyle, Hardy (3), Thompson, G. M. A. Smith, Byers, Johnson and Acebo.

Young 'Pinky' James Was 'Four-Letter' Man

Cracker Rookie, 10-Second Man, Was Athletic Star During Freshman Year at Duke.

By Jimmy Jones.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 14.—Last year the Crackers had a second baseman named Byrne James, who was quite a ball player until he and the tempestuous Spencer Abbott had their famous flare-up. Byrne consequently was bounced from the employ of the ball club and went to Dallas, where he got some sort of revenge in being made manager of the club while Spencer was being relieved of the helm in Atlanta by Eddie Moore.

This year there is another James on the club—a relation to the second baseman. His name is Norman (Pinky) James. The outfielder from Duke University.

Besides being the fastest man on the Cracker squad the young man has a very interesting background. Hailing from the thriving little borough of Hickory, N. C., he came near setting some kind of record for winning athletic letters—the insignia which the boys sport on their sweaters while basking on the verandas of their fraternity houses.

A GOOD REASON. There was only one reason that James did not win four athletic letters at Duke and it was a very good reason.

The reason was Wallace Wade, the head coach at the university. And those who know Mr. Wade, know that he can be quite firm about such things.

When James was a freshman at Duke, he made every team he went out for. He was an end on the football team, a basketball player, a track and field man, and a baseball player.

Fleet as a deer and big, James probably would have made good in all of these sports as a varsity man. But Wade had other plans for him. They dealt, in the main, with football, which sport is Mr. Wade's obsession.

Coch Wade allowed James to play only one of the three major sports and that was football.

ONLY FOOTBALL. Although the youngster had quite a hankering for baseball and Duke had a good baseball team and a good coach, Jack Coombs, Mr. James had to content himself with playing end. Wade didn't want him to take a chance on too many sports, besides the varsity men in a college man must put in on his books.

Freddy Crawford, Duke's great tackle, who made Grantland Rice's 1933 All-American, was another talented athlete who played only one sport. Crawford, James said, was probably the best basketball forward at Duke and outscored all the varsity men in practice, but was restricted to playing football.

James depicted the Duke campus after a couple of years, however, to sign up with Johnny Doherty at Charlotte. He forgot about his ambition to make four college letters in his enthusiasm for baseball. The old game, it seems, still manages to fascinate the college boys.

"I was crazy to play baseball and

MANGIN, HALL MEET TODAY

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—Paced by Gregory S. Mangin, the favorite to recapture the crown he lost last year, the first three seeded players and a "dark horse" today gained the semi-final round in the 36th men's national indoor singles tennis championship on the boards of the Seventh Regiment armory.

Mangin was accompanied into the penultimate stage by Herkley Bell, No. 2, J. Gilbert Hall, No. 3, and Julius Seligson, formerly national intercollegiate champion and now unranked in this tournament and the nation.

Against the full-blooded shots of Frank J. Bowden, Mangin many times was compelled to make sensational recoveries before he finally conquered the former Columbia University star, 6-4, 8-6, 8-6, in the finest display of tennis of the tournament thus far.

Mangin's opponent tomorrow will be Hall, who disposed of the eighth seeded player, Herbert L. Bowman, in four sets, 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

Seligson, who came out of a four-year retirement to launch a comeback, eliminated Eddie Jenkins Jr., seeded seventh, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, and qualified to meet Bell in the quarter-final match.

Bell's advance was at the expense of Leonard Hartman, a former Columbia University basketball player, who was looked upon to give Bell his first formidable opposition of the week but succumbed swiftly in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

'PINKY' JAMES, SPEED ROOKIE, REPORTS EARLY

James, Discovered by Dobbbs, Batted .339 Last Year.

By Jimmy Jones.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 14.—Eddie Moore, like old Abou Ben Adhem, saw his tribe do some more increasing today when his roster of ball players jumped from 16 to 21.

Mr. Moore, who remains the club's official greeter with Earl Mann, the vice president and affable front man still absent, put in a busy day of hand-shaking.

Four of the arrivals were pitchers—A. Williams, "Whitney" Hayes, Jim Lindsey and "Bud" Thomas, who missed the first workout on Wednesday.

Late in the afternoon Outfielder "Pinky" James, who used to play football for Wallace Wade at Duke University, checked in from Bartow, Fla., where he has been visiting. He will not be allowed to work out, however, until the rest of the squad reports Sunday.

A HUSKY CHAP.

James, a speedy boy who has done the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds, is a husky young chap and very ambitious of making the ball club as utility man. He has not been in pro ball long enough to become set in one position and thinks he might try to learn to play infield. His speed and good throwing arm should be an advantage.

There is little chance of his crashing into the outfield trio of Oana, Harris and Easterling, unless one of them gets hurt.

Although said to be somewhat orthodox in his batting form, young James, discovered by the late Johnny Dobbbs, managed to bat .339 in the Piedmont league last season, his first in professional ball—not such a bad figure for a beginner. He has some possibilities with the Crackers at that, especially if he could learn to play one or two of the infield positions.

LINDSEY IN SHAPE.

Big Jim Lindsey, the pitcher, who won 10 games, lost 3 and pitched a couple of tie games for the Crackers last year, to lead the staff in percentage, reported weighing 212 pounds after a bounteous winter spent at the University of Florida.

Lindsey managed to stay in shape, formerly the center of the sugar cane industry but now more noted for the kind that Huey Long raises in the legislature down there.

Jim, who is just naturally robust and can't help it, avowed that he must concentrate on a slight bulge at the waistline down here and get in shape, which means that Jim will probably reduce to 205 pounds, which is about his pitching weight. Jim, being a lover of good eating, will have to work hard to do that.

He was in any kind of shape when I joined Atlanta last year," declared the ex-Cardinal and ex-Cincinnati Red.

"But I'm going to be this year when the season starts."

Lindsey, who probably will share some of the relief duties with Harry Kelley, wants to add exactly 10 more games to his record last year. And since he didn't join the club until well after mid-season, he ought to hang up around 18 or 20 victories this year.

RELIEF HURLER.

Jim, like Kelley, is an excellent relief pitcher and can stand a lot of work. He is a hard battler out there in the box and always ready and willing to pitch.

"I don't mind relieving any time Eddie wants to stick me in there this year," the good-natured Jim averred. With the Cardinals, he was the team's ace relief pitcher for several seasons. Although oldest of all the Crackers pitchers—he is 34—Lindsey has taken excellent care of his arm and it is still good. He has a great fast one, has Jim, and knows how to use it.

Last season, Spencer Abbott, who had a phobia for curve balls, seldom let Lindsey use his fast one in the pinches. But although he also has a good curve and change of pace, Jim declares that his fast ball is his best bet when in the tight spots. He can breeze the ball in there right perky.

Dixie Howell Stated To Be Favored To Be Number One by Tigers

Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.

ON THE SPOT.

This sporting life isn't always fringed with a wall of flowers. It also has its thorns.

A year ago at this date, Primo Carnera was the heavyweight champion of the world. He was the colossus bestriding this narrow pugilistic domain.

Today the same Carnera is not only an ex-champion but there is another challenger standing between him and the title—Max Schmeling, the German.

There is still another challenger in the road by the name of Ray Impellittere, who is as big as Carnera, and who can upset the well-known apple cart if he is good enough to win by a knockout.

There will be no deep excitement if Carnera wins—if the blimp overpowers the imp—as the latter lacks experience and his record has been nothing to rave about.

But if Impellittere can flatten the Titan of the Tiger (slang for Carnera) he will be only a half step back of Max Schmeling, who is now first choice among the challengers, no matter what happens.

Carnera and Impellittere happen to carry the tallest combined altitude and the largest displacement into action that the ring has ever known.

This is part of Friday's attraction at Madison Square Garden, and Carnera's title of ex-champion is another help.

Carnera still is a good boxer without any punch to speak of, and the imp is a guess—a raw quantity who may put on a surprise if he has learned how to hit.

Certainly each contender should know by now that nothing but a knockout will help in the slightest, and if a knockout is missing they both might as well step to one side and let the parade pass on by.

Heavyweight Poundage.

With two mammoths, or a mammoth and a mastodon, thrown into the same pit, it is interesting to check back on the wide variety in championship weights. These are the approximate figures on the days or nights 11 of the champions.

Primo Carnera, 265; Jess Willard, 250; Jim Jeffries, 215; Jack Johnson, 212; Max Baer, 210; Jack Sharkey, 200; Gene Tunney, 198; Max Schmeling, 188; Jim Corbett, 186; Jack Dempsey, 183; Bob Fitzsimmons, 170.

There have been stories to the effect that Fitz weighed only 160 pounds when he fought Jim Corbett, but Corbett on several occasions has placed Fitzsimmons' weight at Carson City at 170 or slightly more.

You have here a range from 265 to 170, a matter of 95 pounds—from Carnera to Fitzsimmons.

Willard had a weight advantage of 77 pounds when Dempsey dropped him six or seven times in the first round at Toledo. Jack had Willard bounding around the ring as a kid might handle a rubber ball.

In the 11 heavyweight champions listed here, you will find five over 200, one around 200 and five below 190, on the days or nights they were in the ring.

And those under 200, or below 190, have a better fighting average than those over 200.

Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries were the best of the big men, but Willard, Carnera and others could hardly be classed with Dempsey, Tunney, Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons.

As the matter stands today, Max Baer at 215 has Schmeling, 192, and Carnera, 265, as his leading pursuers, with the light man well ahead at this moment.

All of which is all proof that mere weight is unimportant or a handicap.

The meeting of two men as tall and as bulky as Carnera and Impellittere is unusual in any sport where no Man Mountain Deans roam the range.

But all this surplus flesh won't count for an ounce unless they get on a fight—minus the normal details which usually include holding, wrestling, clinching, dancing and taking a bow.

'MICKY' SEES FINE PROSPECT IN 'BAMA STAR

Howell Needs To 'Find' Self and Gain More Experience.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Editor.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—It would make a nice dramatic climax to the brilliant athletic career of Millard (Dixie) Howell to suggest that he will make the big jump from the college camps to major league baseball ranks this year. But it would be misleading.

Howell was the hero of Alabama's Rose Bowl football triumph over Stanford but he is not Frank Merriwell. He turned down a flock of professional gridiron offers in preference to signing a baseball contract with the champion Detroit Tigers but he hasn't set the training camp on fire here. In fact he will not be in the American league this year. He will be farmed out, possibly to the Beaumont club of the Texas league, to get a season's experience he needs before taking a serious crack at the big leagues.

"If I can make the grade, I want to make a career of professional baseball," says Howell, good-natured Dixie. "I never had much chance to play college baseball. I was always being cautioned against the risk of being hurt and kept out of football."

"I like the game and I'm happy to get a real chance with the Tigers, but I haven't any illusions. I know it will mean a lot of hard work. I'll be glad to go anywhere they send me to play this year."

The Tigers thought so well of Howell that they outbid the New York Yankees and several other clubs for his services. Manager Mickey Cochrane considers the Alabama ace a good prospect but isn't sure what position is his best. So far Dixie has tried the outfield and three infield spots. Mickey thinks he may make a good shortstop, because of his speed and excellent throwing arm. Howell prefers the outfield.

Dixie has been shifting his style at the plate, as a consequence of finding big league pitching, even in training camp, a bit more difficult to solve than college cranks. Cochrane has taken him in hand and advised him to get more wrist snap but otherwise to develop his own batting style.

PRE-GRID OFFERS.

Howell received offers from nearly every club in the National Football league. The best one came from Brooklyn. His teammates in the passing combination that electrified college grids last season, Don Hutson, has signed with the Green Bay Packers.

"I'm not big or tough enough for pro football," smiles Howell. "They'd kill me inside a couple of seasons and I wouldn't be able to turn to any other sport. I'm figuring my chances over a long stretch. I've had movie propositions, too, but I don't want to connect with his bat as effectively as he made his forward passes click he will not have to worry much about a baseball future."

WORTHY CAUSE.

The game will be started at 2 o'clock. The admission price is 50 cents for the main sports, such as the golf, tennis and swimming teams.

ORCUTT, BAUER LOSE IN UPSET

BELLEAIR, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—In probably the biggest upset of the current season, Maurel Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., and Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., both were defeated in the semi-final round of the annual Bell J. J. women's golf championship today. Both were eliminated by tournament dark horses.

Miss Orcutt bowed by the wide margin of 2 and 4 to Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wis., while Miss Bauer saw an early lead diminish under the steady play of Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee star, who won the last three holes in a row for a 1-up victory.

Young Judaea Meet Scheduled Sunday

Young Judaea from three states will gather in Atlanta Sunday, March 10, to participate in the meet that is the highlight of the season.

'Chick' Galloway To Coach P. C. Nine

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 14.—(AP)—Clarence (Chick) Galloway, for 10 years a star shortstop with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, has been appointed baseball coach at Presbyterian College at Clinton, it was announced here today by Walter A. Johnson, director of athletics at P. C.

Galloway is returning to the diamond for his first active connection with the game since he was injured in the head by a pitched ball while he was a member of the Detroit Tigers several years ago. He operates a book store and gift shop at Clinton and is a graduate of P. C.

Chick played baseball at the P. C. in 1915, 1916 and 1917 under Coach Johnson, and following his graduation he became a member of Atlanta's famous "kid team" that won the Southern league pennant and then sent almost a full team to major league clubs. Jimmy Dykes, now Chicago White Sox manager, co-starred with Galloway in the infield.

Smokies Satisfied With Present Roster

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 14.—(AP)—Manager Lee Head and Stebbins, first baseman, were the first members of the Knoxville baseball club to make their appearance here for spring training. The opening drill is scheduled for March 18.

Manager Head immediately conferred with Owner R. G. Allen and both later announced they were satisfied with the club's roster but hoped the Boston Red Sox would send additional pitching aid.

Stebbins was bought outright by the Smokies management during the winter trading season. He played with Beaumont of the Texas league last season.

Maybe 'Specs' Are What Tech Quarters Needed

Alex Seeks Way To Enable Appleby To Wear Them—Interest Centers in Game Saturday.

By Ralph McGill.

Harry Appleby, one of the football prospects from the freshman class at Georgia Tech, is something like a deep-sea diver when he treads out there next fall. (But not in the game at the Flats on Saturday. He'll be normally clad that day.)

The boy is a bit near-sighted. He can see but he sees better with glasses. To date no satisfactory method of protecting a football player's glasses has been perfected. (Alex thinks maybe his quarterback has needed glasses all these years.)

Protecting for glasses still doesn't prevent them from becoming clouded up with perspiration and steam from the wearer's face.

PAIR NEEDED SPECS.

Dutch Faust, who played a halfback for Tech in 1929, likely would have been a star had it been possible for him to wear glasses. He was about lost without them.

Tech officials have a plan now to have built a special helmet into which will be built glasses to fit Appleby. They will be of shatter-proof glass and coaches believe they will prove practical.

At any rate he may come forth with a pair of glasses, wearing a diving helmet more than anything else.

BLIND TOM.

Alabama's coach, Knappa Francis, affectionately known as "Blind Tom," was the wonder of the season. He could see the backs to whom he passed the ball and threw the intercept passes, one of them in the Rose Bowl game to stop a dangerous march, and yet the ball is a blur until within a few feet of his face.

Appleby will be at quarter for one of the teams on Saturday when the whistle blows at Grant field. (Chin interest in the prospects for 1935 centers on the eight sophomores who are expected to be in there playing regularly when the season opens.)

The Jackets have at least five backs who may be classed as superior natural athletes to those of the past few years, one of them being Appleby.

BETTER TEAM.

There should be a general improvement in play, but winning games will be difficult just the change in personnel and the fact that the Jackets are not used to the heat of the Georgia game.

CASEY PITCHES AND BATS CUBS TO 1-0 VICTORY

Young Atlantan Holds Pirates for Last Four Innings To Win.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—(AP)—Huey Casey, a young curve ball hurler from Atlanta, kept the Pittsburgh Pirates subdued for the last four innings and drove in the run which gave Chicago's Cubs a 1-0 victory today over their National league rivals. It was the opening exhibition baseball game of western training schools.

Casey singled to right in the sixth, scoring Kiki Cuyler, who was hit by a pitched ball and went to second on an infield out. Ralph Birkhofer was charged with the defeat. The two teams met again tomorrow. Three thousand saw today's exhibition.

ROOKIE CLOUTS HOMER.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—The Dodgers' regulars trimmed the Yankigans, 11 to 5, in an intracamp game today on a 16-hit wave of clouting. Frank Lamanski, Bob Logan, Danny Taylor and Buzz Boyle made three blows apiece.

Southpaw Watson Clark, who got the first real test of his comeback attempt, and the veteran Tom Zachary, were nicked for a dozen blows, including a homer by Farrotto, rookie first baseman, but kept them well scattered.

STRENUOUS PRACTICE.

PASADENA, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—After a high-speed, three-hour drill that had the athletes' tongues hanging out, Manager Jimmy Dykes announced the Chicago White Sox batting order for tomorrow's exhibition season opener with Los Angeles at Santa Anita.

Second baseman Jack Hayes will lead off and will be followed by Rip Radcliff, right field; Al Simmons, center field; Zeke Bonura, first base; George Washington, left field; Luke Appling, short stop; Dykes, third base; Luke Sewell, catcher. A pair of freshman pitchers, J. Dungan Rigney and Richard Block, will work against the Angels.

REDS RUN FOR PRIZES.

TAMPA, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds held a track meet today, sprinting from home plate to third base for cash prizes as well as for practice.

Junior Barnes, rookie pitcher, covered the distance in 11 seconds to lead his division and cop the $5 prize. General Manager Larry MacPhail hung up.

X-ray pictures were taken today of Johnny Mize to determine if he has recovered from an old injury, the $5,000 the Reds paid for him.

HOWELL PLAYS.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Izzy Goldstein, the Bronx right-hander, was nicked for nine hits and five passes in four innings today as the regulars trimmed the Yankigans, 9 to 1, in another practice tilt in the Detroit Tiger training camp.

Bridges relieved Goldstein for the last two frames of the six-inning game and held the Tiger regulars hitless.

Dixie Howell played third base for the Yans again and Mickey will keep him there for Saturday's game with the Phillies.

Marvin Owen reported for duty and told Mickey Cochrane he would be ready for another pennant campaign.

CUTS OPPOSED.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—(AP)—Ford Frick, president of the National league, said today he would oppose any admission price-slashing in major league ball parks.

Frick pointed out baseball bosses did not increase the ticket charge when other amusement prices were advanced several years ago.

FERRILL ROUTED.

MIAMI, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—New Ferrell was no puzzle to the New York Giants today as they jumped on the offerings of the Boston Red Sox's ace right-hander for seven runs in the first frame and then counted three more times in the third.

The National leaguers got 15 hits off Ferrell, Ostermiller and Welch, while Hubbell, Allyn Stout and Welch were keeping the Sox's 12 blows well scattered.

YANKIES TIE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—The Yankees divided their squad into two teams, the Gehrigs and Lazzeris, and played an eight-inning game, but they consistently practiced game in the training session.

George Selkirk and Jack Saltzger, on opposite sides, got two hits apiece. Russ Van Latta, one of the dollar-a-year men, provided the pitching feature by giving only one scratch hit in four innings.

CARDS MEET GIANTS.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Frankie Frisch led his world champion St. Louis Cardinals out of here today to Miami Beach, where they will battle the New York Giants three times, starting tomorrow.

It will be the first time these two clubs have been together since last September, when the Cards went into New York and began cutting down the Giants' big lead and on the season's final day won the National league pennant.

BROWNS DRILL.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby sent his St. Louis Browns through one of their hardest drills of the season today as he prepared for tomorrow's invasion by the Red Sox.

A special batting school was conducted by the Rajah himself for Pepper, Heath, Bettencourt, Strange, Bell and one or two others. The balance of the squad practiced double play combinations.

DODGERS.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Brooklyn regulars trimmed the Yankigans, 11 to 5, in an intracamp game today on a 16-hit wave of clouting against the rookies, Frank Lamanski and Bob Logan. Danny Taylor and Buzz Boyle made three blows apiece. Southpaw Watson Clark, who got the first real test of his comeback attempt, and the veteran Tom Zachary, were nicked for a dozen blows, including a homer by Farrotto, rookie first baseman, but kept them well scattered.

Constitution Tourney Sets Record for Entry

A total of 64 entries have already been received for The Constitution's St. Patrick's Day doubles duckpin tournament, which includes 14 entries recorded Thursday, and this mark surpasses by four doubles team the high mark of last season and, with the interest that is being shown, it appears that a near hundred teams will be entered before game time Saturday.

A fine array of ladies' entries, received Thursday, include: Mrs. Lucy Hughes and Leila James, Mrs. Mary McCutley and Mrs. Dot Fraser, Mrs. L. Tiedeman and Mrs. L. Perryman, Louise Estes and Wilma Yeager, Evangeline MacLennan and Isabel Ridley, Mrs. Warrington and Mrs. T. G. Allen, Bo Cawthon and Sarah Garner, Lorena Wooten and Mrs. Lindy James, and L. G. Stowers paired with B. Martin, A. H. Redding and J. F. Schilling, Roy Petre and Gaston Townley, T. G. Chopin and O. H. Jentzen, T. G. Allen and A. L. Stokes, Cannon and Sheats, of the Wofford Oil Company.

Casey singled to right in the sixth, scoring Kiki Cuyler, who was hit by a pitched ball and went to second on an infield out. Ralph Birkhofer was charged with the defeat. The two teams met again tomorrow. Three thousand saw today's exhibition.

CUTS OPPOSED. ST. LOUIS, March 14.—(AP)—Ford Frick, president of the National league, said today he would oppose any admission price-slashing in major league ball parks.

Frick pointed out baseball bosses did not increase the ticket charge when other amusement prices were advanced several years ago.

FERRILL ROUTED. MIAMI, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—New Ferrell was no puzzle to the New York Giants today as they jumped on the offerings of the Boston Red Sox's ace right-hander for seven runs in the first frame and then counted three more times in the third.

The National leaguers got 15 hits off Ferrell, Ostermiller and Welch, while Hubbell, Allyn Stout and Welch were keeping the Sox's 12 blows well scattered.

YANKIES TIE. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—The Yankees divided their squad into two teams, the Gehrigs and Lazzeris, and played an eight-inning game, but they consistently practiced game in the training session.

George Selkirk and Jack Saltzger, on opposite sides, got two hits apiece. Russ Van Latta, one of the dollar-a-year men, provided the pitching feature by giving only one scratch hit in four innings.

CARDS MEET GIANTS. BRADENTON, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Frankie Frisch led his world champion St. Louis Cardinals out of here today to Miami Beach, where they will battle the New York Giants three times, starting tomorrow.

It will be the first time these two clubs have been together since last September, when the Cards went into New York and began cutting down the Giants' big lead and on the season's final day won the National league pennant.

BROWNS DRILL. WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby sent his St. Louis Browns through one of their hardest drills of the season today as he prepared for tomorrow's invasion by the Red Sox.

A special batting school was conducted by the Rajah himself for Pepper, Heath, Bettencourt, Strange, Bell and one or two others. The balance of the squad practiced double play combinations.

DODGERS. ORLANDO, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Brooklyn regulars trimmed the Yankigans, 11 to 5, in an intracamp game today on a 16-hit wave of clouting against the rookies, Frank Lamanski and Bob Logan. Danny Taylor and Buzz Boyle made three blows apiece. Southpaw Watson Clark, who got the first real test of his comeback attempt, and the veteran Tom Zachary, were nicked for a dozen blows, including a homer by Farrotto, rookie first baseman, but kept them well scattered.

STRENUOUS PRACTICE. PASADENA, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—After a high-speed, three-hour drill that had the athletes' tongues hanging out, Manager Jimmy Dykes announced the Chicago White Sox batting order for tomorrow's exhibition season opener with Los Angeles at Santa Anita.

Second baseman Jack Hayes will lead off and will be followed by Rip Radcliff, right field; Al Simmons, center field; Zeke Bonura, first base; George Washington, left field; Luke Appling, short stop; Dykes, third base; Luke Sewell, catcher. A pair of freshman pitchers, J. Dungan Rigney and Richard Block, will work against the Angels.

REDS RUN FOR PRIZES. TAMPA, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds held a track meet today, sprinting from home plate to third base for cash prizes as well as for practice.

Junior Barnes, rookie pitcher, covered the distance in 11 seconds to lead his division and cop the $5 prize. General Manager Larry MacPhail hung up.

X-ray pictures were taken today of Johnny Mize to determine if he has recovered from an old injury, the

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP)—

Stocks followed the sun today, rising in the morning and declining in the afternoon.

A rally seemed in the making in early dealings, with rails, the mail or early shares and a few specialties getting up a point or so, but the prevailing uncertainty and a few bits of poor news were enough to reverse the trend and leave most equities fractions to a point or lower.

Bonds did a little better than stocks,

with changes narrow on the whole.

Announcement of the treasury's plans to call for redemption the $1,935,000 of First Liberty bonds, on June 15, gave rise to some rapid adjustments in the quoted values of the bonds affected. Most were selling well above their redemption prices and declines of 1 to 1 1/2 points on the First 3 1/2's and First 5 1/4's.

Favorable Reflection.

Uncalled government loans reflected the favorable implications of the session the cotton market recovered from its lowest to close barely steady at 50 cents a bale down to 20 cents higher. The leading cereals were reactionary, with wheat and wheat receipts 2 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel.

The pound sterling rallied in the exchange market to show gains of more than 2 cents against the dollar, but the gold currencies were weak as uneasy capital was reported to be flowing out of Paris and other gold-bull financial centers.

Steel shares were a little weaker than the list as a whole. Although there was nothing specific in the day's news appearing to bear on their situation they continued their recent downward trend. Both United States Steel at 28 and Bethlehem at 23 were more than a point to new 1934-1935 lows.

Leaders Decline.

A few other leaders got down more than a point each, including American Telephone ex-dividend at 102 1/4, American Can at 113 1/2, Standard Oil of New Jersey at 36 and Westinghouse at 40.

The more prominent issues, however, were fractional. In this class were American Tobacco R at 38 3/4, General Electric at 25 1/4, Pennsylvania at 35 3/4, Southern Pacific at 33, Chrysler at 31 1/2, Consolidated Gas at 16 1/4 and National Biscuit at 25 1/2.

Turnover in the stock exchange was smaller than in the previous session at $12,280 shares. The Associated Press average of 30 stock prices at 10:30 a. m. was 103.35, off 3/8 of a point.

The report of the 12 federal reserve banks for the week ending March 10 revealed that the country's supply of circulation currency had declined $24,000,000 during the period. Due primarily to the increase in the amount of new currency issued, the monetary gold, member bank reserve balances rose $33,000,000, reversing their recent downward trend.

Brokers' Views

FENNER & BEANE—In the absence

of decisive business trends, monetary uncertainty may produce a restricted market, or a moderate degree of market activity. In the latter case, a dollar devaluation is involved in these uncertainties, however, affording considerable encouragement for the purchase of stocks on any further receding.

COURTS & CO.—Sentiment continues very much improved.

BEER & CO.—The position of the market as a result of Thursday's action is to invite a test of underlying resistance in the near future.

PROCTOR & FAINE—While the action of the market and the business outlook do not indicate a recovery for a reversal of the trend, stocks are getting to the point where the sale of well-protected holdings is inadvisable.

DOBB & CO.—We would look for some further action in the market, but in which case some covering could be looked for in the afternoon and Saturday morning. Such a pattern might well be followed by a test next week of the technical new for industrial stocks, but the business outlook does not appear to warrant penetration of this level.

COTTON OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—We are inclined to the view that cotton prices will prove the best policy.

COURTS & CO.—Despite Washington assurances that the cotton program would not be changed, the market is influenced by European advice that the gold bloc nations are weakening, which leads us to believe that prices may see somewhat further despite the undoubtedly improved technical position.

BEER & CO.—The market appears to have developed into a trading affair pending the announcement of the new cotton program. Generally have not been satisfied that the Washington statements are sufficient to justify the bullish attitude on the new crop at this time.

STANDARD BROTHERS & CO.—It remains

true that what the market needs is an increased demand. The present situation is a positive factor. Traders will doubtless give more attention to the situation pending shaping up of the coming crop prospects. May Liverpool 6.42.

Federal Agents Probe Youth's Disappearance

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., March 14. (UP)—Federal agents were here tonight to investigate the possible kidnapping of Chester Hyde, 19, on his way to night school Monday evening. The youth, step-son of William Lella, horticulturist, left his home here Monday to attend night school. Police said he did not appear at school and has not been heard from since. Lella said the boy is "visiting a friend."

Police said, however, that the step-father had received a telephone call late Monday night from a man who said: "The boy is O. K."

Don't Forget TO ASK FOR WATER MAID RICE TODAY

You'll find it pays to ask for Water Maid Rice—pays because it will always give you the same fine, uniform results. Cooks perfectly, economically, and makes a regal dish. So that you may see the plump, clean grains of goodness, ask your grocer to show you the new Cellophane package. You'll notice the difference between Water Maid and just rice. That's because of the great care we take in milling, grading, cleaning and packing it. Also put up in cartons and bags by the Louisiana State Rice Milling Co., Inc., Abbeville, Louisiana.
